BULLETIN.

Three hundred and eighty-nine complete precincts late this afternoon give:

Superior Judge—Church 35,481, Kinsell 37,313, Koford 36,893, Quinn 34,186, St. Sure, 36,984.

For treasurer the same precincts give: Foss, 31,215; McLaughlin, 26,208. For assessor, Clay, 31,371; Kelley, 28,095. For public administrator, Hill, 29,210; Mehrmann, 27,035. For surveyor, Haviland, 28,597; Miller 27,452. Supervisor, second district, Bridge, 5331; Heyer, 5893. Supervisor, third district, Hamilton, 8801; Kihn, 4760.

The big surprise of yesterday's election has been the phenomenal run of Judge A. F. St. Sure of Alameda for the Superior bench and the apparent defeat of Judge James G. Quinn for re-election. From present indications, St. Sure and Church will be the two new men who will sit on the Superior bench of Alameda county.

The complete reversal of form from the primary contest, when Judge Quinn secured over 34,000 votes, standing next to the late Judge Ogden, astonished the watchers at the county clerk's office as the returns came in. No one could understand it or in any measure account for it, except that too many of his friends counted on his safety and slowed up in their efforts for him.

As the 285th precinct was counted by those watching the judicial contest especially, it showed: Quinn fifth, led by Lin S. Church by 882 votes, and the Church lead constantly increasing.

In like manner the surprising improvement of Judge Kinsell was the subject of universal comment. Judge Kinsell was only recently appointed to the bench and in the primary ran fourth. With the completion of the 285th precinct he was leading the field, running only 55 votes ahead of A. F. St. Sure.

RECOUNT APT TO SHOW READJUSTMENT.

There has been some suggestion that in several of the election booths the vote of Judge Kinsell for the long and short term may have been totaled together.

The judicial latest figures are: Church, 26,374; Kinsell, 27,744; Koford, 27,201; Quinn, 25,482; St. Sure, 27,689.

The courthouse concedes the election of St. Sure, Kinsell, Koford and Church.

Three hundred and five precincts give Clay a lead over Kelley, their totals being Clay 27,755 and Kelley 25,206.

Berkeley elected Supervisor Fred W. Foss to the office of treasurer, he defeating MacLaughlin by over 3500 votes. The latest figures on the contest up to the 345th precinct give Foss 26,969, MacLaughlin 23,865. Treasurer M. J. Kelly admits the defeat of MacLaughlin.

It is pointed out that while M. J. Kelly loses in the defeat of MacLaughlin, he may have a voice in determining whom the governor will appoint as supervisor in place of Foss. Should Kelly dictate this appointment it is conceded that it will give him control of the board of supervisors.

At the 328th precinct the vote for county surveyor was Haviland 25,801, Miller 24,781. The Haviland gain had been steady all morning and his election is admitted.

CONGRESSIONAL VICTORIES ARE ANNOUNCED BY BOTH PARTIES

Republicans Indicate Senate Majority of Five or Six, but Bourbons Still Claim Leads in Both the Houses

Telegraphing to The TRIBUNE from New York at 12:30 o'clock today, Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, says:

"Republican victory certain."

The telegram says: "We have carried the Senate by six and the House by thirty."

LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The Republicans have reversed the Democratic control of the House of Representatives on the face of incomplete returns up to 3 p. m. today. At that hour both the Republicans and Democrats were claiming a majority of the Senate. Returns indicated that the membership of this body would be close and possibly a tie.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The result of yesterday's nation-wide battle for control of the two houses of Congress between the Republicans and Democrats is still impossible to declare with accuracy. Slow counts in several critical states have kept the final standing of the two parties in Senate and House from being known this early.

Republican leaders this afternoon claimed a majority of five and possibly six in the Senate. The Democrats claimed a majority in the Senate of from two to four and in the House of from five to ten.

A certain majority of five in the United States Senate was claimed by the Republican national committee in an official statement issued here this afternoon. The statement follows:

"We have a certain majority of five and possibly six in the United States Senate.

"Before the election the Senate stood: Democrats, 52; Republicans, 44. We carried and made a gain of one each in the following states: New Hampshire, Delaware, Illinois,

LANSING GIVES U.S. PLEDGE TO BACK RUMAINA

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The United States government has notified Rumania that her separate peace with the central powers would not prejudice her interests at the peace table.

Secretary Lansing wrote the Rumanian charge that the United States would exert its influence toward fulfillment of Rumania's just ambitions.

Rumania had feared that her rights would be overlooked, so a few days ago the Rumanian charge presented a memorandum outlining her aims and suggesting they would be recognized.

Lansing's reply today said:

"The government of the United States has constantly held in mind the future welfare and integrity of Rumania as a free and independent country and prior to the existence of a state of war between the United States and Aurtria-Hungary a message of sympathy and appreciation of Rumania.

"Conditions have changed since that time and the President accordingly desires me to inform you that the government of the United States is not unmindful of the aspirations of the Rumanian people, without, as well as within, the boundaries of the kingdom.

"It has witnessed their struggles and sufferings and sacrifices in the cause of freedom from their enemies and their oppressors. With the spirit of national unity and the aspirations of the Rumanians everywhere the government of the United States deeply sympathizes and will not neglect at the proper time its influence that the just political and territorial rights of the Rumanian people must be obtained and made secure from all foreign aggressions."

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Heavy returns from San Francisco at noon today gave Bell, for governor, an unexpectedly heavy vote in the bay district, but left Governor Stephens still well in the lead with a margin of 21,000 votes, with more than a third of the state in.

Complete returns from 2150 of the 6191 in California gave:

Governor — Stephens, 123,639; Bell, 102,666; Rose, 2736; Rolph (written in), 4489.

The heavy "write in" of Rolph was largely in Sacramento, where he got 3189 in 94 of Sacramento county's 159 precincts. The Rolph write-in movement, however, did not appear to be general.

Returns from 1471 precincts complete gave:

Lieutenant-Governor, 1439 complete precincts—Young, 74,726; Snyder, 57,139; Beals, 1750.

Supreme Court, 1322 complete precincts—Lennon, 48,307; Lorigan, 42,324; Wilbur 49,657.

Superintendent of Public Instruction, 1197 complete precincts—Hyatt, 28,592; Wood, 37,058.

BELL FORWARDS HIS RESPECTS TO GOVERNOR.

Acknowledging his defeat Bell sent the following message to Governor Stephens:

"Please accept my congratulations upon your election to the governorship of the greatest state in the American union. I wish you every posible success in your administration of its affairs. If I can ever be of any service to you please command me."

At the same time, Bell issued a statement declaring:

"I do not feel any personal discomfort over my defeat and have not the slightest complaint to make. My friends who have so loyally supported me under the most adverse conditions are dearer to me than ever. I went into this fight to defeat absolute prohibition, to fight for convictions that are stronger than ambition to hold public office and if I have aided in the defeat of bone dry prohibition, I am satisfied. My gratitude to San Francisco for its tremendous vote is beyond expression."

STEPHENS GRATEFUL FOR HIS RE-ELECTION.

Governor William D. Stephens, after hearing that his election had been conceded by Theodore A. Bell, his leading opponent, issued the following statement at Los Angeles today:

"From election reports that have come in from all parts of the state it is now assured that I have a plurality in excess of 100,000. I am deeply grateful to the people of California for this splendid expression of confidence. I shall do my best to deserve it and will continue to do all I can as governor toward winning the war and toward giving to the state that economical efficiency in the administration of the state's affairs that the people have a right to expect. I want the earnest, whole-hearted co-operation of all our people in solving the many questions that will come with the after-the-war problems of reconstruction. Let us all work together for the prosperity and upbuilding of California."

Well scattered returns from the 1322 complete precincts gave relatively the same returns on associate justices of the Supreme Court as were indicated all last night by incomplete results. Wilbur from the start held a slight lead, with Lennon second and Lorigan third.

None of the villages was named, however. The message was signed by the German field commander.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY NORTH OF VERDUN, Nov. 6.—American engineers, who have played such a conspicuous part in the war, made it possible for the Americans to advance east of the Meuse river by throwing four pontoons across the river during the night.

At dawn the German observers spotted the bridges and the boche artillery began shelling them.

One was destroyed, but the doughboys swarmed across the others with the shells dropping all about them.

As the Americans reached the eastern side they deployed in skirmish formation and quickly drove back the enemy. The Germans were severely trounced.

CALIFORNIA STAYS WET BY CLOSE VOTE

NO. 22 HAS INCREASING MAJORITY AGAINST IT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Bone dry prohibition in California, in amendment No. 1, apparently was decisively defeated this afternoon when San Francisco's overwhelming vote against it came in.

Twenty-one hundred and three complete of 2191 in the state gave: Yes, 71,517; no, 118,084.

This sudden wet lead was given by returns from 670 of the 749 precincts in San Francisco, in which the results were: Yes, 17,869; no, 58,893.

This majority of 46,577 against adoption was in line with returns since early last night, except for a brief time in the early morning, when many incomplete returns, particularly from Southern California districts, indicated the amendment's adoption. As complete returns came in from those previously reported as incomplete, the consistently narrow margin for the wets seemed to be maintained.

Eight counties out of twenty-eight showed dry returns. Nineteen were wet and one, Santa Barbara, with seven of its 70 precincts completed, showed an even division with 313 votes each way.

The bulk of the wet vote, as expected, came from the bay districts and was fairly general in the north. South of Tehachapi there were dry majorities. Los Angeles voted for adoption by nearly 5,000 with a little more than a fifth of the vote in. Orange county, one-third reported, was dry by 1500 votes. Kern county in 36 of 169 precincts was wet by 151 votes.

San Francisco on the 307 complete precincts of its 749, voted against adoption by 7100; Alameda by 2500, Santa Clara by 200, San Mateo by 900, Shasta by 150, Solano by 120, Nevada by 100 and Kern by 150.

The Rominger bill totals at noon showed 33,824 votes for it and 48,944 against the measure.

STEPHENS' LEAD OVER BELL GAINS

These returns from thiry counties showed Wilbur leading in 15, Lennon in 8 and Lorigan in 7. Lennon's strength was chiefly in San Francisco and the northern counties; Wilbur's was in Los Angeles and in the south, while Lorigan ran well throughout, except in Los Angeles.

Will C. Wood's lead of litle more than a thousand at midnight had grown today to 8500, with the returns in from 1197 complete precincts, 6191 in 29 or half of the counties in California. Of these Wood leads in 21 and Hyatt in S. Alameda, Fresno, Los Angeles, Orange Solano and Stanislaus all went for Wood, according to present returns, the southern and bay city precincts particularly aiding him. Hyatt's strength did not seem to be localized. In no place was he a marked favorite.

HERSMAN OF GILROY ELECTED OVER HAYES.

Democrats gained one seat in the House of Representatives by the election of Hugh S. Hersman of Gilroy, elected to congress from the eighth district, according to returns today from 295 complete precincts of 604 in the district which gave Hersman a majority of 21,407.

The vote was: Hersman, 21,457; Hayes, 19,050.

Hersman led by small margins in six of the seven counties in the district. Hayes' only lead was in Ventura, wheer thirty-six of fifty-four precincts gave him a lead of 73 votes.

With complete returns from 148 out of the 711 precincts in the Seventh Congressional district giving H. E. Barbour, Republican, 6,962 against 6,826 for Henry Hawson, Democrat, the result in the remaining contested district was in doubt today.

Incumbents were assured of election by large majorities in all districts except the Seventh and Eighth.

CONGRESSIONAL RACE IS CLOSE

Kansas, Idaho, Colorado, Missouri and Montana.

"We lost one in Massachusetts, which reduces our gain to seven.

"Kentucky is still in doubt, with the odds favoring the Republicans.

"Nevada still is in doubt also and the chances there are fifty-fifty."

The Democrats will retain control of both houses of Congress as a result of yesterday's elections, according to a statement issued at Washington this afternoon by Homer S. Cummings, acting chairman of the Democratic national committee.

"Reports to 2 o'clock this afternoon," said Cummings, "indicate that the Democrats will control both the Senate and House. While there have been some losses, there have been corresponding gains. The Democratic majority in the Senate will not be less than two and probably four, while the Democratic majority in the House will be between five and ten."

At noon the Democratic national committee had issued an official statement at Washington claiming that they had elected 217 members of the next House, conceding 206 to the Republicans and holding that twelve were doubtful. They also laid claim to 49 Senators, conceding 37 to the Republicans and holding ten seats still doubtful. The committee also announced that Henry Ford's managers are claiming his election as Senator from Michigan by 10,000.

For the first time since the days before the civil war Massachusetts has elected a Democratic United States Senator. Practically complete returns today showed that former Governor David I. Walsh was chosen in yesterday's election over United States Senator John W. Weeks. Walsh's plurality was about 16,200 votes. Weeks has served one term and sought re-election. The vote for the state, with only a few cities and towns missing, was: Walsh, Democrat, 206,271; Weeks, Republican, 188,639; Lawson, Independent, 21,476.

In New Hampshire George H. Moses, Republican, former minister to Greece, was elected to the United States Senate for a two-year term to succeed the late Senator Jacob A. Gallinger. The vote was: Moses, 34,773; John B. James, Democrat, 33,656.

Governor Henry W. Keyes, Republican, was elected for the six-year term to the United States Senate over former Congressman Eugene E. Reed, Democrat. He will replace United States Senator Henry F. Hollis.

BELL LEAD IN S. F. 30,000; STATE COUNT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—San Francisco city and county overwhelmingly defeated both the Rominger bill, providing for the sale of light wines and beer in California, and amendment No. 22, providing for bone dry prohibition, according to latest figures available here today. In San Francisco Theodore Bell, the independent candidate for governor, is leading William D. Stephens, the Republican nominee, by 2 to 1. With the vote incomplete in 624 precincts in San Francisco county and city out of a total of 749, the tally stands:

For governor—Bell 8991, Stephens 4842.

Amendment No. 1 (Rominger bill) —Yes 5341, no 8200.

Amendment No. 22 (Prohibition) —Yes 2700, no 10,123.

YOLO.

WOODLAND, Nov. 6.—Complete returns from 15 Yolo county precincts, give Stephens 776, Bell 488, Rolph 177; for lieutenant-governor, Young, 699; Snyder, 704; Rominger bill, yes, 514; no, 830. Prohibition, yes, 289; no, 684.

MONTEREY.

SALINAS, Nov. 6.—Governor Stephens is carrying Monterey county by an almost two to one majority. Complete returns from 21 precincts give Stephens 1304, Bell 736; for lieutenant-governor, Young 1144, Snyder 797; for representative in Congress, Hayes 837, Hersman 1125; Rominger bill, yes 850, no 933; prohibition, yes 873, no 956.

HUMBOLDT.

EUREKA, Nov. 6.—Stephens has 2171 votes, Bell 924, and Rolph 305 in incomplete returns from 25 of the 83 Humboldt county precincts.

FRESNO.

FRESNO, Nov. 6.—Congress: Returns coming in slowly from the seventh Congressional district show: Barbour, Republican, with a lead of 136 over Hawson, Democrat, in 148 complete precincts out of 711. The vote was: Barbour 6962, Hawson 6826.

SAN DIEGO.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 6.—Returns from 63 out of the 221 precincts in San Diego county give Stephens 2776; Bell, 1776. On the bone dry amendment the vote was: Yes, 1930; no, 2016.

ORANGE.

SANTA ANA, Nov. 6.—Stephens is leading in Orange county by over 2000 and bone dry prohibition is over 1300 ahead. The figures for 38 complete precincts are: Governor, Stephens 2928, Bell 887; Congress, Eleventh district, Kettner 2043, Mrs. Stella Irvine 1499; Rominger bill, yes 902, no 2318; dentistry law, yes 599, no 2056; bone dry prohibition, yes 2372, no 955.

STANISLAUS.

MODESTO, Nov. 6.—Partial returns from Stanislaus county give Stephens for governor 1322, Bell 777; Congress, Hawson, Democrat, 991, Barbour, Republican, 905; Rominger bill, yes 658, no 943; prohibition, for 875, against 741.

SACRAMENTO.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 6.—Forty-two complete scattered precincts out of 159 in Sacramento city and county, give: Lieutenant-governor, Young 1248, Snyder 2243, Beals 135; supreme court, Wilbur 1649, Lennon 1974, Lorigan 1829; state superintendent of schools, Hyatt 1647, Wood 1692.

SAN LUIS OBISPO.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Nov. 6.—Complete returns from this city today gave Governor Stephens a lead of approximately 300 votes. San Luis Obispo voted as follows on the principal state contests:

Stephens 838, Bell 540; for lieutenant-governor, Snyder 531, Young 765; for representative in congress, Hersman 868, Hayes 577; Rominger bill, yes 602, no 633; tax limitation, yes 343, against 464; health insurance, for 272, against 690; dentistry, for 501, against 608; prohibition, for 655, against 597.

For superintendent of schools, Hyatt 602; Wood, 615.

QUINN LEAD IN PRIMARIES LOST

gin and the finish will be very close.

Supervisor Hamilton is safe and the latest figures show Supervisor Heyer gaining a slight lead, although during the morning his election was in doubt.

The total vote, on the average maintained by the precincts reporting, will exceed 68,000, an increase over the estimate.

The prediction of Republican headquarters that the governor would secure a 10,000 majority of such a vote is born out, his lead being 9623 at the end of 285 precincts counted.

The county favored the Rominger bill, giving it a lead of over 446, but the total prohibition amendment was lost, as were the single tax, the health insurance and the dentistry proposals.

Already the probability of changes in the personnel of the staff of the assessor and treasurer is being discussed, but no statement is forthcoming from the newly elected heads of the departments.

Wets Appear to Lead in Ohio

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 6.—A tabulation of 4195 of the 5756 precincts in the state at noon today gave: Wet, 309,606; dry, 272,199, a wet majority of 37,407.

The majority of the precincts yet to report are rural, which makes the final result doubtful. Last year the wets carried the state by a majority of only 1137.

REPUBLICANS MAKE GAIN IN MIDDLE WEST

BULLETIN.

ST. LOUIS, Missouri, Nov. 6.—Incomplete returns from the ten counties in the ninth district at noon showed Speaker Champ Clark with a 2180 lead over Judge B. H. Dyer for Congress. Democratic headquarters claim the election.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Republican gains in middle western states were indicated by congressional senatorial returns today.

Representative Medill McCormick's victory over Senator James Hamilton Lewis provided the only important shift in the national legislative balance in Illinois. Backed by President Wilson's personal endorsement, Lewis rolled up a handsome majority in Chicago, which McCormick overturned by an unprecedented majority "down state." Illinois' party congressional representation remains numerically unchanged.

Former Representative Victor L. Berger, indicted in Chicago and Milwaukee for alleged violation of the espionage act, upset the hopes of Wisconsin Republicans for a clean congressional sweep by riding to Congress over Representative Stafford by a 7000 plurality. Berger has been an avowed opponent of the war. He made a campaign issue of the indictments voted against him, alleging their purpose was political.

Kansas and Nebraska, regarded as extremely important battle grounds, swung to the Republican column, carrying with them three additional congressional seats in Kansas and two in Nebraska. Governor Arthur Capper gave the Republicans another seat in the senate by defeating Senator Thompson, Democrat, with a heavy majority. Senator Norris, Republican, triumphed over John Morehead, who had been endorsed personally by the President.

Smith Seems New York Victor

Ohio Is Claimed by Dry Forces

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Alfred E. Smith, Democratic candidate for governor, has a plurality of 32,113 votes over Governor Charles S. Whitman, Republican, in corrected returns with 436 election districts missing out of 7230.

Governor Whitman again refused to concede the election of Smith this afternoon. Democrats claimed Smith's election by a plurality of from 5000 to 15,000.

There was a possibility that the canvassing of the soldier vote on December 17 might definitely decide the final result.

The returns from 6794 election districts out of 7230 in the state, including New York city, showed:

Whitman, Republican, 938,714.

Smith, Democrat, 970,827.

This puts Smith in the lead by 32,113 with 436 districts still to be heard from.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6.—With 3140 of the 7051 districts still to be heard from, William S. Sproule, Republican, was leading in his race for governor against Eugene C. Bonniwell the Democratic nominee, by 170,843 votes. The entire Republican state ticket, together with a majority of congressional, senatorial and legislative candidates, were carried along to victory.

Republican leaders today claim that three districts represented in Congress by Democrats have elected Republicans.

OHIO.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 6.—Latest incomplete, unofficial returns today indicate that Governor James M. Cox, Democrat, has defeated former Governor Frank B. Willis, Republican, for the governorship of Ohio, and that the drys have carried the state. Cox is showing a majority of approximately 30,000 with one-fifth of the state to hear from, while the wets are about 23,000 votes ahead, with 3179 precincts out of 5756 reported. This wet lead, however, is expected to be wiped out by later returns, as most of the districts not yet heard from are in rural sections, which are expected to vote dry. Both wet and dry leaders are still claiming victory, as are the Republican and Democratic camps.

ILLINOIS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Congresman Medill McCormick has been elected United States senator, defeating Senator James Hamilton Lewis by an estimated plurality of 50,000. Although in Cook county Lewis led by a plurality of 45,000, a downstate lead made by McCormick of more than 100,000 gave him the race.

RESULTS VARY ON PACIFIC COAST

SEATTLE, Nov. 6.—Eastern Washington reports indicated the state's one Democratic representative, C. C. Dill, was defeated by J. Stanley Webster.

Western Washington elected its three Republican congressmen, J. F. Miller, L. H. Hadley and Captain Albert Johnson. Southeastern Washington, according to returns received here, elected Dr. John F. Summers, Republican, to the seat now held by Congresman W. L. Lafollette.

OREGON.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 6.—Reelection of Governor James Withycombe, Republican, and election of Senator Charles L. McNary, Republican, to the United States senatorship for the long term seemed certain today on the basis of scattering returns from all parts of Oregon. Representative McArthur Sinnot was well ahead and the entire Republican state ticket probably was elected. Representative Hawley, Republican, was returned with but little opposition.

NEVADA.

RENO, Nev., Nov. 6.—Incomplete returns show that Senator Charles B. Henderson has defeated Congressman E. E. Roberts for senator by a substantial majority, and that Charles R. Evans, Democrat, is elected congressman, defeating S. S. Downer, Republican.

ARIZONA.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 6.—With returns incomplete in each county reporting the election contest for governor between E. C. Campbell, Republican, and Fred D. Coulter, Democrat, is in doubt. Campbell apparently has a slight lead. Representative Carl Hayden, Democrat, has been returned to Congress by a large majority and indications are that the other Democratic nominees have been elected. Owing to the remoteness of some of the polling places it will be several days before the result of the governorship is determined.

UTAH.

SALT LAKE, Nov. 6.—The Democratic members of Congress from Utah, Mays and Welling, are reelected on the face of present returns, it was admitted today by W. D. Candeland, chairman of the Republican state central committee.

GIVE 150,000 AS MAJORITY OF STEPHENS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6.—"Governor Stephens has carried the state by 150,000, Southern California by 110,000 and Los Angeles county by 70,000," was the statement from Stephens' headquarters here today.

"Late reports are constantly increasing the governor's lead. In Ventura, where he claimed but a 500 margin, his lead now is 2,000. The case is typical of others."

California has elected six Democratic and five Republican congressmen, according to F. R. Groves, secretary of the Democratic state central committee.

Groves claimed the election of the Democratic candidates in the following districts: Clarence Lee, of Santa Rosa, in the first; John E. Raker, of Alturas, in the second; William Kettner, of San Diego, in the eleventh; Charles Randall in the ninth; Hersman, in the eighth, and Hawson in the seventh.

He conceded the election of the following Republicans:

Charles Curry, of Sacramento, in the third; Julius Kahn, of San Francisco, in the fourth; John Nolan, of San Francisco, in the fifth; J. A. Elston, in the sixth, and Henry Z. Osborne, of Los Angeles, in the tenth.

YOUR DUTY TO BE ATTRACTIVE

Have Pretty Dark Hair

"La Creole" Hair Dressing is the original hair color restorer, and not a dye. Applying to your hair and scalp revives the color glands of nature, and restores your hair to a beautiful dark shade or to its natural color. It is the only hair color restorer that will gradually darken all your gray or faded hair in this way. No matter how gray, prematurely gray, faded or lusterless your hair might be, "La Creole" Hair Dressing will make it beautifully dark, soft and lustrous. "La Creole" Hair Dressing will not stain the scalp, wash or rub off, and is easily applied by simply combing or brushing through the hair. Don't be misled into buying some cheap preparation.

USE "LA CREOLE" HAIR DRESSING for gray or faded hair and retain the appearance of youth. Also used by gentlemen to impart an even dark color to their gray hair, beard or mustache.—For sale by The Owl Drug Company's Stores and all good drug stores everywhere. Calomel Users! Listen To Me! I Guarantee Dodson's Liver Tone

Your druggist gives back your money if it doesn't liven your liver and bowels and straighten you up without making you sick.

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with sour bile, crashes into it breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get for a few cents a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodsons Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.—Advertisement.

WASTE OF SUGAR

THE following bulletin was among the most forceful and effective bits of conservation propaganda at the New York Food Show last month. It was put out by the National Sugar Refining Company of New Jersey:

"Save the waste!

"One hundred million cups coffee used daily in United States.

"Seventy million cups tea used daily in United States.

"One hundred and seventy million cups tea and coffee.

"If even an average of half a teaspoonful of sugar per cup is left undissolved at the bottom of cups of tea and coffee the waste would be 1,700,000 pounds of sugar daily.

"Stir your sugar until it dissolves. It's estimated that one-third to one-half of all sugars used in homes is used in tea and coffee. Think it over—how is it in your home? Isn't there a chance for saving?"

3 SONS AT WAR; ONE IS PROMOTED

Mrs. O. E. MacDonald of 655 Thirty-ninth street has three sons in the service, all of whom volunteered. Mrs. MacDonald has just been advised of the promotion of her eldest son, Gordon G. MacDonald, to the rank of second lieutenant in the naval aviation branch. He is located at present at Hampton Roads and was married about two weeks ago to Miss Anita Shay of Berkeley. The young woman made the trip across the continent and the service was performed where the young man is stationed.

Whisky and $410 in Money Thieves' Loot

Robbers entered the place of business of William Brookfelder, 718 Adeline street, last night and secured fifteen cases of whisky and $410 in money. The men effected an entrance through a side door, which was apparently forced with a jimmy. The police are investigating.

Lloyd P. MacDonald, second son, and the last to enter the service, is in France, according to word just received by his mother. He is attached to L Co., third battalion, eleventh regiment, United States marine corps.

The youngest son, Warren K. MacDonald, until recently located at Mare Island, is doing Red Cross work for the government in San Francisco, being attached to the naval hospital corps.

U. S. AIRMEN IN RAIDS DESTROY HUN BALLOONS

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Nov. 6 (By the Associated Press).—During the last four days American airmen have destroyed or downed more than 160 German airplanes and in addition a large number of enemy balloons.

Since September 12, when the St. Mihiel salient operations began, the Americans claim to have downed 431 German machines. Of this number it has been confirmed that 278 have been destroyed.

HUN ARMIES DRIVEN INTO LARGE TRAP

PARIS, Nov; 6.—As a result of the battle which is still in progress, the allies have soundly beaten 140 German divisions, hundreds of villages have been freed and thousands of prisoners have been captured. The enemy's position, which was bad before, now may be said to be desperate. The problem confronting the German general staff may be summed up briefly as follows;

The enemy has nine armies strung out in a semi-circular line from Ghent to Mouson, on the Meuse, a distance of 160 miles. All that immense fighting force must flow back to Germany through Belgium, the gap between Liege and Mouzon measuring only seventy miles.

The Southern half and center of this gap is the most difficult country. It is wooded, hilly and poorly supplied with roads. If the Namur-Liege region is occupied by the allies before the Germans south of the Sambre are able to get away and cross the Meuse they will be virtually surrounded.

Ghent and Lequesnoy are nearer Namur and Liege than Marle and Chateau Porcien. The British armies are less than fifty miles from Namur. The Germans on the Serre are seventy, and those on the Aisne are seventy-five. The country north of the Sambre is ideal for maneuvering.

NAVAL DETAIL IN FLU FIGHT HERE

Twelve members of the hospital corps at Yerba Buena island have been enlisted in Oakland's fight against the influenza epidemic, the men being detailed by Captain E. H. Durell, commandant at the island, to work in conjunction with the health authorities and Red Cross at the Auditorium hospital. All have been specially trained for this work.

The War Camp Community Service, through the Defenders' club at Thirteenth and Harrison streets has offered its hospitality to these men and since their arrival they have made the club their home. The women of the club-house, under the direction of Mrs. Thos. M. Potter, Mrs. Lillian Brown Everts and Mrs. T. E. Atkinson, installed cots and bedding on the third floor of the clubhouse and the boys have been enjoying all the comforts of home, including home cooked meals and all the privileges of the splendid clubhouse.

There are twelve men in the detail and they have been assigned to the relief work at the Auditorium hospital in two shifts of twelve hours each. Doctors and nurses in charge of the Auditorium hospital have highly praised the efficient work of these splendid young men.

The detail is in charge of G. C. Smith and J. J. Burke and the other members of the corps are W. W. Lakey, A. R. Lyon, V. V. Miller, T. E. Reynolds, C. W. Robinson, G. Bessey, C. M. Eskeldson, J. B. Fife, G. D. Garrison and D. A. Holt.

Eastbay Stores and Homes Are Robbed

Burglars entered the Mecca Cigar Company's store at 1018 Broadway last night and robbed the till of $52 in coin and one check for $220.50.

Charles Warren of Bay Point reported to the police that his room at the Fern Hotel was entered last night and $17 stolen from a pocket in his trousers.

V. O. Burkwalter, Corsicana, Tex., last night reported to the police that he was robbed of $40 by James T. Ellis. He could not advise the police as to Ellis' whereabouts.

Mrs. R. L. Sturdevant, 1724 San Pablo avenue, today reported to the police that robbers had entered her room and stole a purse containing between $45 and $50 in money.

Thieves Ride Off With Change for $10

Two well-dressed strangers entered the store of Mrs. A. Valpoy, 4154 East Fourteenth street, yesterday and asked for a package of cigarettes. One of the men tendered a $10 bill in payment. When the change was made and handed to him the other man apparently discovered that he had the exact change, which he tendered and asked for the bill, which Mrs. Valpey unwittingly handed him. The men then slipped out a side door and disappeared down the street. They were riding in a two-seated motorcycle. The police are investigating.

Holy Names College Is Without Epidemic

Spanish influenza has not as yet invaded the College of the Holy Names, according to the members of the faculty. Not one case has developed in that school. The day schools of the Sisters of the Holy Names have been closed, but the boarding school has been in excellent running order during the epidemic, according to reports. All classes are conducted out of doors, thus minimizing the chances of a spread of the contagion among the students. Many sisters who have been released temporarily from the parochial schools are rendering service as nurses among persons stricken by the malady.

University Man Is Held For Inquiry

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—Professor Camillo Schneider, employed by Harvard University in scientific research at the Arnold Arboreum, was arraigned before a federal commissioner here charged with violation of the trading with the enemy act and was held for a hearing. It is alleged that the defendant has been sending large sums of money to Austria and the government is concerned as to what use was made of it there. He is registered as a German alien.

SEASON OF NAVEL ORANGES OPENED

The first navel oranges of the season reached the wholesale market today. The crop is reported to be large and the quality of the fruit first-class. Navels will be in the market for some time. They will be followed later by the last crop of Valencias, which will close the orange season.

Winter Nellis is the only variety of pear that is being marketed from orchards at this season of the year, and that crop will soon be harvested. The only Bartletts and other pears that can be had at this season come from the cold storage plants, commission men state.

Grapefruit is very weak at present and prices are still inclined to drop.

Increased demand for onions is reported, with prices firm. The crop is said to be large and the quality better than formerly.

Chicken receipts are reported lighter. Prices have not undergone any change for a few days.

San Francisco Woman Got Little or No Results Until She Took Tanlac.

"My health has been bad so long that I had almost despaired of ever getting anything to help me," said Mrs. G. Nelson, who resides at 1244A Howard street, San Francisco, in a conversation with a Tanlac representative, recently. Mrs. Nelson has lived in San Francisco nearly all her life and her many friends will be glad to learn of her wonderful improvement.

"I have spent hundreds of dollars during the past twenty years," she continued, "with little or no results, and have just paid out seventy-five dollars for special treatment for stomach and nervous troubles which gave me only passing relief. I had no appetite and my stomach went back on me so I could hardly eat anything. I had to stop eating meats and vegetables altogether and for several years now my only food has been fruits, toast and tea. If I ventured to eat anything else I would simply suffer agony. I would bloat up terribly and the pains caused by the gas which formed on my stomach were so severe that I would have to take to my bed. I could neither eat nor sleep and had to keep my grand-daughter home from school to wait on me and help do the housework. The pains in my back, across my kidneys, were awful. I was also badly constipated and often had dizzy spells. My liver was sluggish and my blood must have been in bad shape, too, as I had gotten to be as yellow as a pumpkin. I would just sit up in bed night after night, seldom closed my eyes for sleep, and when I did it was only in a doze. I could get no sound sleep at all.

"Now, this is just the condition I was in when a neighbor of mine, who had gotten splendid results from Tanlac, talked me into trying it, and after a few days I could tell it was helping me. So I have been gradually improving ever since and I am just so glad to see how perfectly my health is being restored that I can't help telling others about Tanlac. My appetite has improved wonderfully and my stomach is in so much better condition that I can eat many things I would not dare touch before. I don't have any trouble now digesting what I eat and I don't have any more gas or pain in my stomach. The pains have also left my back and I am not constipated any more. My color is good now, as you can see for yourself.

"I sleep better than I have in years and haven't had a dizzy spell since I began taking Tanlac. My nerves have quieted down, I get more rest from my sleep and I am not only able to take long walks in the fresh air, but I can do my housework without any trouble. I am now well on the road to recovery and I am more than glad to tell others about Tanlac, to my mind the best of all medicines."

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company Stores.—Advertisement.

Dr. Wong Him,

Oakland, Calif.

Dear Sir:

I wish to take this opportunity to thank you most sincerely and heartily for the great benefit which I received from your treatment, and for the uniform kindness and highly valued advice. On the morning of October 24, 1918, I was suddenly overtaken by an attack of Spanish Influenza and suffering greatly when I called to see Dr. Wong Him. By his pulse diagnosis he proved to me that he understood his business, as he explained my pains, etc., better than I could myself, so I felt satisfied to place myself under his treatment, which I did, and can say I am a well man today. I heartily recommend Dr. Wong Him, and it is with the greatest pleasure I tell of the benefits received, and wishing Dr. Wong Him a long life and happiness, I remain,

Very respectfully yours,

SOLOELLE

The Tone-Coloring Solo Player Piano

"I am most enthusiastic about the Soloelle. The quality of tone and shading produced upon this instrument seems almost uncanny, so lifelike and human is the effect produced, and for accompaniments one singing with the Soloelle forgets that a mechanical instrument is furnishing the support, so individual is the result."

The results obtained upon the Soloelle surpass anything that you have ever heard in a player piano.

The Soloelle is different—different in action—different in performance—different in its effects. Hear the Soloelle and you will understand.

First—The Soloelle is the only player piano that affords complete and unrestricted control of Melody and Accompaniment separately.
Second—The Soloelle is the only player piano that affords control of the Tone-Coloring—the charm and essence of musical expression.

Eastbay Wood Ship Work Goes On

Wooden ship construction has not been abandoned, insofar as the plants of the Eastbay and Benicia sections are concerned, despite the recent order of Director General Charles M. Schwab cancelling contracts at a number of the wooden shipyards. This is evidenced by the fact that work continues in full swing at the Barnes-Tibbetts yard on the estuary, and at the plant of the Benicia Shipbuilding Corporation.

The latter has of late been awarded contracts for the construction of three steamers, in addition to the two vessels now being rushed to completion there. At the Barnes-Tibbetts plant wooden ship construction is being supplemented by the outfitting of wooden hulls built at other points—with machinery. The yard is now practically completed.

CAUSES OF ORDER.

Unseasoned timber and unskillful caulking are at the root of the order closing out work on government account at certain of the wooden shipyards, according to Captain J. F. Blain, manager of the Northern Pacific district. He attributes the unsatisfactory performances of several recently built vessels to those causes, but anticipates little further trouble of a like nature.

Captain Blain is in the San Francisco bay region for the purpose of conferring with Captain A. F. Pillsbury, district manager of the Southern Pacific district, on the wooden ship situation.

"I am here," said he, "to see if some of the minor faults discovered in wooden ships cannot be remedied. The United States Shipping Board now has 22 wooden ships in service, and we are now in a position to tell pretty well what they can do and how they are behaving. We have discovered faulty caulking in some instances and in others evils of a like minor character.

NO WAY OF SEASONING.

"Of course," he continued, "we have no way of seasoning the timbers. You must remember that the wodoen ships comprise an emergency fleet; they had to be built in a hurry, and they were built in a hurry. I have no desire to discuss the policy issue. My job, and that of Captain Pillsbury, is to see that the wooden vessels built on the Pacific coast are as good as they possibly can be made."

A committee of Pacific coast woden shipbuilding experts, including Captains Blain and Pillsbury, is now making an examination of the wooden ships thus far constructed on this coast and of general efficiency conditions at the shipyards. Yesterday the wooden steamship Marshfield, which is being overhauled at the Alameda plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, was inspected. The Marshfield is being rebuilt to some extent, due to steering trouble. Seamen say the vessel is "cranky." She was aunched at Coos Bay last July.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antiacid than Bisurated Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestent. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further fermentation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestents.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."—Advertisement.

LABOR IS PRAISED FOR EFFORT HERE

Organized labor's efforts, making possible the Oakland Defenders' Club of the War Camp Community Service, have received war recognition on the part of William F. Edwards, director of publicity of the War Camp Community Service, with headquarters in New York. In a letter to Alexander Stewart, head of the Oakland War Camp Community Service, Edwards says:

"I have been wondering how to convey to the union labor of Alameda county our thanks for their splendid contribution to the War Camp Community Service in building the addition to the Oakland clubhouse.

"It is not the fact that their contribution was worth materially some $15,000 to the War Camp Community Service which most impresses us all here at headquarters, but the spirit of cooperation and friendliness which they exhibited, the spirit of community service. I am reminded in this connection of an old poem on a Christmas calendar:

"'It is not the weight of jewel or plate,
Or the rustle of silk or fur,
But the spirit in which the gift is rich
As the gifts of the Wise Men were;
And we are not old whose gifts were gold
Or whose were the gifts of myrrh.

"Nevertheless, on the material side, this work must have meant much to the men who contributed it. In many cases it must have represented more dollars and cents than they could afford if they were not animated by the highest idealism.

"Will you not convey to them our sincere appreciation, both of the material gift and of the spirit of the donors? I am writing this to you, in behalf of us all at headquarters, because I do not know whom to address among the union labor of Alameda county. Will you kindly see that this letter or a copy of it reaches its proper destination?"

HOSPITAL NURSE SLAIN; TWO SHOT

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Climbing a fire escape to a room in the nurses' dormitory of the Post Graduate Hospital here early today, an unidentified man shot and killed one nurse, wounded two others and escaped.

Miss Lola Almon, 21, Oakland City, Ind., was killed.

Miss Ella Tapager, 24, Minneapolis, was shot through the neck and seriously, though probably not fatally wounded.

Miss Flora Carrington, 22, Mowequa, Ill., was shot through both arms.

The nurses sprang screaming from their beds when the man entered the room. He immediately opened fire.

Woman Ends Life Mentally Deranged

Temporarily mentally deranged through illness, according to her husband, Mrs. Katherine Katzenbach, wife of an employee at the Southern Pacific mile, committed suicide this morning at her home, 1454 Sutter street, San Francisco, by cutting her throat with a table knife. Her body was found by their 22-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Katzenbach, according to her husband, had been under treatment by Dr. A. S. Larkey of Oakland for some time. This morning, he says, she was acting peculiarly and he warned his daughter to watch her. While the girl was out of the room for a moment the woman took her own life.

Noble Women Respond to Call of Afflicted

GEORGIA G. BORDWELL.

Never, since its inception, has the Woman's Committee of the Council of Defense, with headquarters at 420 Central Bank Building, had an opportunity to prove its value to the community as it is having just now.

The Woman's Committee, primarily an organization of intellect, designed to interpret the messages, the pleas, the propaganda of the government into language that every woman's organization can understand, and therefore every woman, has laid aside its educational campaign and is showing its great big beating heart.

Every activity in which women of Oakland are engaged touches in some way this office.

For after all, there is only one thing to be done this week—and a half hour in this office gives one a clear insight into the way women have responded to the cry for help.

FIFTY CHILDREN ARE CARED FOR.

There is the Red Cross nursery, where fifty little children are being cared for; children whose mothers are not able to do it themselves because of desperate illness. These babies and the volunteer nurses who are looking after them, are being fed every day by the women of Oakland who send their contributions through the Woman's Army (which is an auxiliary of the Woman's Committee).

Oakland Social Settlement, Third and Linden streets, from which radiate thirty visiting nurses into the homes in the immediate vicinity, is supplied with food in the same manner, not only for the nurses but for the needy families.

The Red Cross Convalescent Hospital with its quota of volunteer nurses and its patients depend entirely upon the donations of cooked food sent in by the women, and Mrs. M. A. Andersen, head of the army, declares that women have reached the highest point of kindliness and generosity.

BUSY WOMEN TAKE TIME TO PREPARE FOOD.

Busy women, who have no assistance in their households, take time to prepare food for all these sick persons and all these volunteers. One little story Mrs. Andersen likes to tell is of Mrs. Gowing, who has a little grocery store down on Fifth street—Mrs. Gowing every day prepares with her own hands gallons of hot stimulating soup which she donates; the National League for Woman's Service furnish the automobiles for distributing food, but the only way they are able to do it so efficiently is because the women, and the men, offer their services so willingly.

The Woman's Committee also reports that during the week 525 garments have been turned in for the kiddies who need them; 94 pairs of stockings, 67 pairs of shoes and perhaps 50 odd garments, as booties and sweaters; $58 has found its way into the office to be applied in any way the committee sees fit. Miss Ethel Moore, chairman, says she thought all the clothes in Oakland had been sent to the Belgians, she having had much to do with the campaign, but the way little garments have been sent in for the Oakland babies proves that they were not, or mothers are just dividing the clothes of their own youngsters. Most of the things sent in are so nice that the committee are inclined to the latter view.

WOMEN'S ARMY TO TAKE CHARGE OF BOOTHS.

The Woman's Army will take charge of the booths on the first day of the United War Work campaign. This is to be November 7, and will be known as honor day, when every man and every woman is asked to walk up to the booth and give what they can to help along the "Keep 'em Smiling Campaign."

EIGHT SCALDED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Members of the women's motor corps aided in taking to Bellevue Hospital eight men who had been scalded on board the United States transport Louisville, which was lying at a pier in the North river, when a sixteen-inch steam pipe burst. A group of laborers at work in the bilges was caught in the cloud of escaping steam. Two may not recover.

Recreation Club For Soldiers Interests Women

The first recreation club for convalescent soldiers and sailors, men not quite able to leave the precincts of the hospital nor yet strong enough to visit the canteens about the city, has been established in New York City. It is known as the Chateau-Thierry club and there is but one other of its kind in existence—Kitchener House in London. The hours of the clubhouse are from 1 to 6 o'clock, and during these hours tea is served free of charge. The club was founded by Mrs. K. de Forest, who is chairman of the executive committee, all of the officers, however, being men.

The club is the first of its kind to be opened in America, and the home, situated upon a bluff on East Fiftieth street, overlooks the river and was given over for this purpose by Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt Jr.

Train Strikes Auto; Two Hurt; 3 Escape

Mrs. Luella Arrowsmith, 382 Jayne street, and Marion Campe, 7 years old, 316 Eleventh avenue, San Francisco, are recovering today from injuries received when a Southern Pacific train collided with a car driven by Mrs. Arrowsmith at Nineteenth and Curtis streets. Mrs. Arrowsmith suffered a severe laceration of the scalp. The little girl's hip was dislocated. Both the injured were treated at the receiving hospital, after which they were removed to their homes.

Mrs. Arrowsmith's 6-year-old daughter, Eloise, and two other children, Allen Ayers and Vestal Ayers, aged 7 and 10 respectively, and living at 392 Jayne avenue, were with her in the car. They were unhurt, but a pet dog, Rover, who was with Mrs. Arrowsmith's little girl, was killed. The car was badly smashed. The accident occurred yesterday afternoon.

RAZOR SAVES LIFE OF LAD 'OVER THERE'

A safety razor saved the life of Corporal Eugene Valladao, son of John Valladao, 5362 Miles avenue, who was wounded in action on September 29. Valladao was drafted in November. Formerly he was employed by Wells-Fargo Company in this city. He describes the adventure through which he passed in a letter received by his father.

"At present I am in a hospital. It is sure fine the way we are treated by the Red Cross girls and the doctors. One would not want any better.

"On September 29, about 10 a. m., another squad and I were sent on patrol looking for snipers who had been pestering us for a few hours. We sure located them but I was seen first. He got a Red Cross boy before me. I asked the boy where he was and started for near where he told me, but it was too far to one side. When I was hit all the boys stayed and kept him covered. I heard after leaving the field that he was picked up. A machine-gun bullet hit the middle finger of my right hand and split it. It went through my gas mask and stopped on my safety razor, which I had in my upper blouse pocket. So I was some lucky boy. It was my fifth time in battle."

OFFICER! FAKE COP TAKES COIN ON FLU CHARGE

"You are under arrest for not wearing a mask!" was the statement made by a tall stranger, wearing a star, to Miss C. La Guidice, 1515 Webster street, as she was walking with her sweetheart last night near her home.

The alleged officer finally suggested that if Miss LaGuidice and her friend put up $5 each the matter could be adjusted. This suggestion was promptly acted upon and when the masked stranger turned and walked away with the $10 of his victims it suddenly dawned on them that they had been swindled.

Miss LaGuidice could give no adequate description of the stranger other than that he was tall, wore a mask and displayed a large police star.

Bettef Trade Near as Epidemic Abates

Wholesale commission men are still feeling the effect of the general business depression incident to the prevalence of Spanish influenza, they report. Improved health conditions, which physicians announce are about due, are expected to stimulate trade. Many persons among the wholesale firms who were confined to their homes as the result of attacks of influenza are reporting for duty again and the situation in the markets is reported as much more encouraging.

Shipworker Victim of Two Hold-up Men

Two masked hold-up men last night robbed D. B. Hardy, an employee of the Bethlehem shipyard, living at 489 Ninth street, of a watch and $18. The robbery was committed at 10:30 o'clock, just as Hardy was about to enter his home. The men were evidently aware of the fact that he had money, for they grabbed him, pressed a revolver to his head and took the money, finding the pocket in which he was carrying it the first grab. Inspector Thomas Gallagher is investigating the case.

A Home-Made Gray Hair Remedy

You Can Make at Home a Better Gray Hair Remedy Than You Can Buy.

Gray streaked or faded hair is not only unbecoming, but unnecessary. You can darken it without using a dye.

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost, or the druggist will put it up for you. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray haired person look twenty years younger. It is not a dye, it does not color the most delicate scalp; it is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."—Advertisement.

THE STRUGGLE

BY ZOE BECKLEY

CHAPTER LXIV

With John Ferrol's resumption of his place in the Carter Publishing Company, his augmented salary of $50 a week, and his more inspiring duties as head of the sales department, the little household at Arcadia settled into comparative ease. Carter had passed a nice, lavender-tinted check for $560 into John's hands, being the sum it had cost the Ferrols to put out Miss Selden's book "The Question of Life." Miss Selden herself had gone back to town, to her teaching, but with a comfortable bit of money in the savings bank as the price of her marketed volume. Though none of them put it into words, they all secretly felt the relief one experiences after a hard trip at sea. Of course, it was stimulating and thrilling and very interesting; profitable even. But oh, how good it does seem to be back on solid earth again! The hum-drum but comfortable days take on a tint of actual novelty. Safety becomes a poignant delight.

Edith rearranged her household money to meet the new scale. John now made her an allowance of $25 a week. She felt rich at first, especially since the garden was actually producing its little quota toward the family assets. But another letter came from her brother, Edgar Flowerton, urging her to find the money somehow for the completion of his wonderful water realities again.

heater, which awoke Edith to financial realities again.

"I suppose," said John when she broached the subject—confidently this time, for he had given his promise to look into Edgar's invention—"that we'd better ask him to visit us for a week or so. He'll have to bring his model and plans and things. I'll have Blake and other fellows I know examine it."

And he rushed for his morning train.

Edith's sister-heart glowed with the anticipation of mothering Ned once more. She hadn't seen the boy for years; and after all, there were just the two of them now. They ought to hang together. * * * Poor little old Ned who used always to be making fire engines out of his mother's pans and egg beaters! And getting scolded or spanked whenever Edith wasn't able to take the blame herself or think of a way out!

So she wired Edgar to "Come at once. Bring everything. We shall help you, darling." And bustled about like a pretty hen making a nest ready for her new chick.

Before night a telegram arrived: "Thanks. Wire $50 immediately. Board and traveling expenses, Ned."

The message came collect." Edith paid the boy, who departed on his bicycle, whistling, after the irresponsible manner of conveyors of news which does not affect them. Edith looked absently after him as he splashed his wheel delightedly through the rain-pools and wondered how she should lay immediately hands on $50.

If she went to town herself the savings bank where her few dollars were stored would be closed. She had never borrowed of her neighbors. Probably none of the available ones would have that on hand anyhow. Nor would she ask the butcher, as Lil Blake often did when she was short.

Her eyes strayed to the desk where her husband's papers and business memoranda made a sort of neat litter. Right on top where he had laid it for a moment was the carefully counted-out money for the rent and telephone—forgotten in his rush for the train. A quick search through her purse and handbag netted Edith enough besides in cash to eke out the $50 Edgar had wired for.

Stifling a howl of protest from her conscience, Edith took the little pile of bills and hurried to the telegraph office. Not until after she had sent Edgar the money and words of cheer and welcome did Edith feel a sort of drag upon her spirits. Always the struggle for money! Always some unexpected expense and no funds to meet it! Always the sacrifice, both material and moral, when finally the expense was covered! Must it be forever like this? Was it written in her stars always to be poor and plodding? Was it?

She told John about the rent money that evening and her face burned as he made to answer. Edith prayed fiercely in her heart that some day her brother would make good—would prove himself the boy she believed him to be, and repay, aye, and far more, what she had urged John to do for him.

Before the end of the week Brother Edgar arrived. As Edith took him into her arms at the station, raining tears of joy upon his natty clothes, she felt all the confidence of a mother in her son. His past failures were forgotten. Her handsome, brilliant, easy-mannered young idol could not be a failure! Surely the gods had favored him with genius! He would make them all rich—some day!

For this purpose bi-weekly lists of missing men, with full description will be sent by military commanders, to the State Council.

Home addresses of the men will be given, so that local authorities and defense organizations may be advised. The status of each absentee, whether absent without leave or in desertion, will be stated.

Lists of men apprehended, from time to time, will be furnished. There is a government reward of $50 for apprehension of a deserter.

NAVY INDUCTION RULES ARE GIVEN

Enlistment and enrollment in the navy having been discontinued by a recent order, mobilization officers have given out information as to who is eligible for induction into that branch of the service and how men are selected. According to these instructions the drafted men are sent direct to the navy mobilization stations by local boards. Inducted men are obtained upon individual requests from mobilization officers, through regular prescribed channels to the provost marshal general.

Men in class 1, of registrations prior to September 12, 1918, are not eligible for induction. Skilled men in class 1, of September 12, 1918, registration are eligible for induction. Certain men who possess qualifications suitable for entrance into officers' training schools are eligible for induction as skilled men. Men deferred classification of any registration may be inducted, and need not be skilled.

The instructions say further:

"To be inducted men must present themselves in person at 742 Market street, San Francisco, or one of the sub-stations for examination. Substations are at present maintained in Los Angeles and San Diego. Transportation to the office for examination and to the applicant's home to await induction must be at his own expense. If the induction of the applicant is desired, requisition is made upon the Provost Marshal General for the man, through the Navy Department. If approved, the Provost Marshal General then issues an order to the man's draft board to induct him into the navy. The man is then transferred to the navy mobilization office for final completion of induction and further transfer to a training camp.

"It is absolutely necessary that applicants bring with them card or other official document showing classification and serial number. The order number is not essential."

Mrs. W. K. Sanborn Is Called by Death

Mrs. W. K. Sanborn, an early day resident of Oakland, died this morning at her home, 5681 Oak Grove, following a stroke of apoplexy. She was the wife of Dr. W. K. Sanborn, who, with a son, Mervyn Sanborn, survives her. Mrs. Sanborn was born in Wisconsin 65 years ago, coming to Oakland in 1874, where she has made her home since. She was a past matron of Unity Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, and prominently known in lodge and philanthropic circles.

The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the chapel of the James Taylor company.

Lieutenant Bell Dies in Aero Camp

Word has been received of the death yesterday of Lieutenant Archibald Bell at Camp Hancock, Georgia. Spanish influenza, followed by pneumonia, is given as the cause. He was ill five days.

Lieutenant Bell is a brother of Mrs. E. J. Fording who for many years lived in Fruitvale. In January of this year he enlisted as a private in the aviation corps. Soon afterward he won his commission and took his place among the daring flyers in the fields. He had a record as a machine gunner. Lieutenant Bell was a well-known Elk.

The funeral will take place on Sunday in Stockton, with full military honors. Mrs. Fording now resides in that city.

Boys Are Held for Taking Chinese Idol

ALAMEDA, Nov. 6.—Perhaps E. Vital, R. Fretas and D. Jepson will think the second time before taking a god of misfortune from the home of a Chinaman. When they entered the home of a vegetable grower at 2839 Eagle avenue and took everything in sight the god was among their haul. At the Hanlon shipyards, where the boys were employed, they are said to have bragged of their raid. Their arrest followed and in court this morning they were held for trial at the Superior Court by Judge Weinmann.

LABOR NOTES

A resolution protesting the terms of the Macy award was adopted at the meeting of the newly-organized Draughtsman Union last night in the open air at Emeryville. This union is the first of its class to be established on the Pacific Coast. Its membership is made up of draughtsmen of the Eastbay and San Francisco. William J. Wilkinson of this city is business agent of the organization. He has established headquarters in the labor temple here and also in the labor temple across the bay.

J. G. Taylor, business agent of the local Machinists' Union, has gone to Seattle to attend the meeting of the Pacific Coast District Metal Trades Council. He is serving as alternate for R. W. Burton of the Iron Trades Council of the San Francisco bay district. An important conference is scheduled for tomorrow between the delegates to the Metal Trades Council and those attending the session of the Pacific Coast District Council of Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders, which is also being held in that city.

Three more members of the local Street Carmen's Union have succumbed to influenza, making a total death toll of nine from that malady in the ranks of the organization. Fred C. Canniff, employed on the line at Richmond, died on Monday. His body was shipped to Oklahoma for burial. D. R. Jones, residing in Elmhurst, died Tuesday. John Pugh, of the Western Division, also died yesterday.

"See Foch," Is Word to Enemy Peace Terms in General's Hands

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6. — Marshal Foch has been authorized by the United States and the Allies to receive representatives of the German government and to communicate to them the terms of an armistice.

The German government is so informed in a note handed to the Swiss Minister here today by Secretary Lansing.

The text of Secretary Lansing's note follows:

"I have the honor to request you to transmit the following communication to the German government.

"In my note of October 23, 1918, I advised you that the President had transmitted his correspondence with the German authorities to the governments with which the government of the United States is associated as a belligerent, with the suggestion that, if those governments were disposed to accept peace upon the terms and principles indicated, their military advisers and the military advisers of the United States be asked to submit to the governments associated against Germany the necessary terms of such an armistice as would fully protect the interests of the peoples involved and insure to the associate governments the unrestricted power to safeguard and to enforce the details of the peace to which the German government had agreed, provided they deem such an armistice possible from the military point of view.

"The President is now in receipt of a memorandum of observations by the allied governments on this correspondence which is as follows:

"'The allied governments have given careful consideration to the correspondence which has passed between the President of the United States and the German government. Subject to the qualifications which follow they declare their willingness to make peace with the government of Germany on the terms of peace laid down in the President's address to Congress of January, 1918, and the principles of settlement enunciated in his subsequent addresses.

"'They must point out, however, that clause two, relating to what is usually described as the freedom of the seas, is open to various interpretations, some of which they could not accept. They must, therefore, reserve to themselves complete freedom on this subject when they enter the peace conference.

"'Further, in the conditions of peace laid down in his address to Congress of January 8, 1918, the President declared that invaded territories must be restored as well as evacuated and freed, the allied governments feel that no doubt ought to be allowed to exist as to what this provision implies. By it they understand that compensation will be made by Germany for all damage done to the civilian population of the allies and their property by the aggression of Germany by land, by sea, and from the air.'

"I am instructed by the President to say that he is in agreement with the interpretation set forth in the last paragraph of the memorandum above quoted. I am further instructed by the President to request you to notify the German government that Marshal Foch has been authorized by the Government of the United States and the allied governments to receive properly accredited representatives of the German government and to communicate to them the terms of an armistice.

"Accept, sir, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

"ROBERT LANSING."

TANK CORPS IS IN NEED OF MEN

The State Council of Defense is requested by Washington to announce that the Tank Corps, United States Army, is in need of a certain number of fighting men. Of this number about half must be skilled mechanics and technically trained men, physically qualified and highly skilled along mechanical lines. The remaining half need not be mechanics, but should be men of good order of intelligence, good physique and possessed of stamina, initiative, fearlessness, and a serious determination to fight and end the war.

Any men between the ages of 18 and 45 years who possess in a reasonable degree the qualifications stated above will be accepted for service in the Tanks Corps.

Where fifty men get together and ask for enrollment the War Department will make local examinations, otherwise applicants must apply at headquarters in Washington or at the following recruiting headquarters:

Kearny Recruits to Leave for Camp

CAMP KEARNY, SAN DIEGO, Nov. 6.—The 6000 Nebraska recruits who have been expected here for some time and were held up by the outbreak of influenza, will begin to entrain in the east on November 11 for this camp. It is expected that about 1500 will leave each day for four days.

It is announced that 105 enlisted men have been selected to leave Camp Kearny Friday to attend an infantry central officers' training school at Camp Pike, Ark. They are due to arrive at the school not later than November 18.

The staff officers of Camp Kearny who have been on duty in Washington as students at the army war college are expected to return here and take up their duties on November 12.

About 350 machine gun men are expected to arrive here in a day or two, having left Camp Hancock at Augusta, Ga., on November 3.

A heavy rain fell here last night and early this morning which settled the dust and purified the air to such an extent that it is expected greatly to improve the health conditions at the camp, and materially assist in stamping out the influenza. The number of new cases of influenza increased again yesterday. There were 155 new cases, 22 cases of pneumonia and three deaths.

Edwards Declines to Declare Himself

Commissioner of Finance and Revenue W. H. Edwards, this morning refused to deny positively that he would be an active candidate for the position of city auditor in the event of J. H. Clay being elected county assessor.

"I, of course, would not feel like saying that I would not accept the position. Some of the commissioners have been kind enough to suggest to me that I would be the right man for the place in the event of Auditor Clay being elected assessor. I do not feel that I can say anything one way or the other just now, but time will tell."

The appointment which will be made by the city council, will be for the unexpired term ending in April.

BERKELEY READY FOR WAR DRIVE

BERKELEY, Nov. 6.—Berkeley today completed plans for its share in the United War Work campaign, which opens next Monday, and is prepared to go over the top in raising the quota of $106,931.70 set for the college city.

While Berkeley's quota has been raised from the $75,000 originally set, leaders in the drive are confident of raising the additional sum without trouble. As a means of facilitating the work of raising funds, Berkeley and Albany have been divided into twelve districts headed by captains, the quota being divided among the various vicinities in proportion to population and tax valuation.

Beginning Saturday, Berkeley Boy Scouts will distribute literature showing the splendid work being done by the allied organizations, while solicitors will begin calls on Monday morning. The seven organizations which will share in the results of the drive and the percentage accorded each of the funds raised, are as follows:

National War Work Council of the Young Men's Christian Association, 58.65 per cent.

War Work Council of the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Associations, 8.80 per cent.

National Catholic War Council (Knights of Columbus), 17.60 per cent.

Jewish Welfare Board, 2.05 per cent.

War Camp Community Service, 8.80 per cent.

American Library Association, 2.05 per cent.

Salvation Army, 2.05 per cent.

Makes Sacrifices and Pays Greatest

First Lieutenant William Hanley, Oakland athlete, graduate of St. Mary's college and of St. Anthony's school, was killed in action in France September 29. Word to his father, Barney Hanley, coal dealer of East Oakland, received from the War Department, says that Lieutenant Hanley made one great sacrifice before he paid the greatest, and this was to give up his furlough in behalf of another man who was his friend and who had a wife and child.

While the other man was in safety Lieutenant Hanley led his men in battle and was killed. Hanley enlisted a year or more ago. He was a brother of Mrs. Ralph Knapp of East Oakland.

RUN DOWN MAN AND REFUSE AID

TRIBUNE BUREAU
2011 SHATTUCK AVE.

BERKELEY, Nov. 6. — Police search was started today for an unidentified automobile driver who yesterday knocked down and seriously injured John T. Buchenery, shipping clerk, residing at 2542 College avenue, while the latter was crossing the street in front of his home.

According to Buchenery, the driver proceeded for two blocks without stopping and then returned to the scene of the accident, but refused to render aid. The injured man was taken to his home by Dr. Ruby L. Cunningham, physician at the University of California, who resides at 2536 College avenue, and the latter's sister, Mrs. Mathew Lynch, who witnessed the accident.

According to witnesses, the machine striking Buchenery bore the license number 450140. Two men, it was declared, were riding in it. Buchenery is under the care of a physician at his home.

'Flag Is Still There,' Writes Capt. Darrow

"The Flag is still there," is the substance of a letter written to Chief of the Fire Department Elliott Whitehead from Captain Thomas H. Darrow, a well known Oakland engineer, now commanding a company of United States Army engineers in France.

The flag in question, which is a beautiful silk stand of colors, sent to Darrow by the Claremont Parlor Native Sons, while riddled with bullets and badly battle-scarred, still floats in the breeze and inspires that particular company of engineers, most of whom are Oakland boys, to make the Hun give ground every time they are forced to drop their tools and take up their rifles.

TWO BOYS MISSING.

Two boys are reported missing by their parents to the police. They are John Pacheaco, 1647 Ninetieth avenue, and Thomas Smith, 1015 Wood street. The description given in both cases is too indefinite to aid in their being found.

FOR FIRE UNIFORMS.

The city council this morning passed to print an ordinance providing for uniforms for all officers and members of the Oakland fire department. An ordinance appropriating $25,000 was also passed to carry out the provisions of the uniform ordinance.

CAN A FISH HAVE THE FLU? HERE'S PUZZLE

Can a fish get the "flu?"

If he can't, and science doesn't think he can, William C. Jurgens, manager of the Hotel Oakland, and Crane Wilbur, actor, went to a lot of trouble in vain.

The two are fishing at Rodeo, and to date are fishing successfully, as evidenced by a basket of fish arriving at the hotel today for friends.

And every fish wore a "flu mask." The fishermen, with infinite care, had manufactured miniature gauze masks which were firmly tied behind the gills of each fish.

Lieutenant Kinney, with six comrades, engaged fifteen enemy aviators, each man destroying a hostile plane. In addition four others are unofficially reported to have been downed.

Given Three Months on Battery Charge

ALAMEDA, Nov. 6. — Jack Miranda, who was arrested October 17 on a charge of battery, was today sentenced to three months in jail by Judge L. R. Weinmann. Miranda hit August Mahlstedt on the head with a jimmy at the Union Iron Works, where both men are employed. He claimed Mahlstedt had refused to buy a bond in the third bond drive, and six months later Miranda decided to take the matter in his own hands and teach Mahlstedt a lesson in patriotism. According to the story told the judge he had told Miranda that while he had purchased bonds in the first and second drive illness and death had made it impossible for him to purchase in the third drive.

STRIFE ADMITTED BY HUN SOLDIERS

TRIBUNE BUREAU
1494 PARK ST.

BERKELEY, Nov. 6. — That there is more strife in the land across the Rhine than the outside world dreams of was the statement of German officers, made to Russell Bell, former member of the 1918 class at the University of California, as told by Bell in letters reaching members of the Delta Upsilon fraternity from France.

"We had a few German prisoners last night who seemed to be glad to be out of the fighting," writes Bell. "One spoke English and attempted to make us more assured of the fact that the Germans cannot hold out much longer. He was a second lieutenant. He also said that there was more internal strife in the land across the Rhine than the outside world dreams of. Of course, these reports must be taken with salt, but am sure the Hun cannot last much longer."

Bell is attached to base hospital 47 in Southern France and declared that the reply of President Wilson to the German peace overtures brought great rejoicing to the men stationed at the front. Bell was a former football star at the university and a member of the Golden Bear and Delta Upsilon fraternity.

The meeting will be devoted to an appeal in behalf of the drive for funds now being made by the United War Work council. All university activities will be suspended during the two meetings.

Can't "Do Your Bit" with a Bad Back

"Every Picture Tells a Story"

IN THESE critical times every one's best is badly needed. But you can't do your best if half crippled with a lame, aching back. If you suffer with constant backache, feel lame, weak and all-played-out; have dizzy, nervous spells and fits of "blues"—look to your kidneys. You can't do a full day's work without well kidneys and a sound, strong back. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands of workers. They should help you.

Read These Oakland Cases:

Thirty-eighth Street

Mrs. L. A. Buell, 376 Thirty-eighth St., says: "My kidneys were in a terrible condition about four years ago. I could hardly go about, my back was so lame and weak. I shall never forget the awful dizzy spells I had and at times I would get so dizzy and sick to the stomach I could hardly stand it. When I bent over I could hardly get up again, and half the time I had to go around with my hands on my back. I felt anything but well until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, but they soon rid me of the trouble and made me well and strong again."

Thirty-sixth Avenue

Fred S. Strate, 713 Thirty-sixth Ave., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for twenty years. They have always taken away the pains in my back and regulated my kidneys. I have had rheumatic pains, too, and Doan's have greatly relieved me. They have acted directly on my kidneys and have given me prompt benefit. Whenever I have felt the least soreness or pain across my kidneys I have used Doan's Kidney Pills right away and one box has rid me of all the trouble." (Statement given December 6, 1915.)

On April 19, 1917, Mr. Strate said: "Doan's Kidney Pills put my kidneys in good condition and I now use them occasionally and they keep my kidneys well. My former statement holds good and I will always back it up."

Forty-seventh Avenue

A. L. Richey, shoe repairer, 1700 Forty-seventh Ave., says: "My kidneys were weak. When I stooped my back felt the pain the most and I had to straighten up by degrees. With this aching and pain there was soreness, lameness and a tired feeling across my loins and kidneys. Every cold settled in my back and made my condition worse. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me right away and rid me of the trouble in quick order." (Statement given December 3, 1913.)

On April 19, 1917, Mr. Richey said: "Never in my life have my kidneys been in such good condition as they are now; and I give all the credit to Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's cured me and there has never been a return symptom."

East Eighth Street

Mrs. Mary Quimby, 3324 E. Eighth St., says: "Once kidney trouble gets a hold on a person, it certainly makes life miserable. I began to suffer from awful weakness in my back. I knew from the way my kidneys were acting that they were at fault. My feet and ankles swelled. My back ached constantly and sometimes I could hardly stoop. When I did, I would have to put my hands on my back to ease the pain. I was fortunate, indeed, to learn of Doan's Kidney Pills before it was too late. Doan's made a complete and lasting cure."

Forty-first Avenue

Mrs. Philip Reader, 1227 Forty-first Ave., says: "I had quite a spell of kidney trouble. Most people have awfully bad backaches when their kidneys aren't acting right. My back, however, didn't cause me much trouble, but it was the way my kidneys acted that caused me the most annoyance. When I bent over my sight became dim and specks appeared before my eyes. I was feeling badly when a friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and I took some. They soon had me feeling better and before long had removed the complaint."

Fortieth Street

L. E. Pishard, proprietor of grocery, 358 Fortieth St., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have certainly done me good, and any time I have a chance to recommend them I do so. I was in such bad shape with my kidneys about nine years ago, when living in Boston, I could hardly move. I was all bent over like a man a hundred years old. My kidneys were weak and I didn't have any control over the kidney secretions. I was working in the navy yard at the time and a fellow workman suggested that I try Doan's Kidney Pills. Everything I had done to get relief had failed, but Doan's helped me. Three boxes regulated my kidneys and cured me."

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1918.

THE WAY OF THE DEFEATED.

Germany's military masters must ask Field Marshal Foch, the Ally generalissimo, for armistice terms. This is another defeat in their peace maneuvers. The German governing powers had hoped to save their public face from the scars of defeat by using the President of the United States as their intermediary. Their trick was too thin not to be penetrated by the most casual eye. They must talk directly to the commander-in-chief of the victorious Ally armies.

After "seeing Foch" Germany will in all probability feel much worse than at present. The conditions are not yet known in detail, but they will be such as to insure the Allies against the possibility of Germany renewing hostilities and guarantee the complete fulfillment of the peace conditions to be agreed upon later.

Universal satisfaction will be felt over the clarification by the Versailles conference of one of President Wilson's fourteen "terms." Where the President speaks of evacuation and restoration of the occupied territories of the Ally nations, the Versailles conference added: "It is understood that compensation will be made by Germany for all damages done to the civilian population of the Allies and their property by the aggression of Germany by land, by sea and from the air." This interpretation the President endorses.

Consequently there is no longer to be any doubt on the part of the German government and people about their being obliged to pay for the devastation they have wantonly and illegally perpetrated in France and Belgium, for the deportation, murder and unlawful confinement of the citizens of the occupied territories, and to return dollar for dollar the money extorted in the form of levies and fines. The last-named two items alone amount to over $4,000,000,000.

The Ally governments have also made a very timely statement on the President's reference to the freedom of the seas. They point out that this phrase is open to various interpretations, some of which they cannot accept. They insist upon entering the peace conference with absolute freedom on this subject.

It is well to remove in advance any ground for conflict between the Ally and German views on this subject. They are irreconcilable. The Ally view is the same freedom of the seas that existed before the outbreak of the war, for Germany and for every other nation, and that this freedom shall not be unlawfully and ruthlessly abridged by belligerents at the expense of the legitimate intercourse of neutrals. Germany's idea of freedom of the seas is that she must be given the right to seize the possessions of other peoples wherever in the oceans and seas she may will. That view is unthinkable, intolerable.

So far, all is well. Germany can obtain a cessation of the fighting as soon as she is willing to accept terms from Marshal Foch. She will not be permitted, as she had vainly hoped, to discuss those terms.

ITALY'S GREAT VICTORY.

As the story of the fighting in Italy during the last ten days of October unfolds it becomes perfectly clear why Austria-Hungary sought an armistice and abjectly surrendered. The Teutonic armies on the Italian front, the largest and the only important unit of the Austrian military organization, was literally crushed, almost annihilated.

It appears that the forces of General Diaz, the Italian commander-in-chief, took over 500,000 prisoners. The other prizes of battle included 250,000 horses and practically all the artillery, ammunition and transport facilities of the enemy. The strength of the Austro-Germans was approximately 1,000,000 men with rifles and as many more for corps and auxiliary service. The number killed and wounded must have been very large; so that only a small portion of the enemy's once magnificent field force escaped.

The full credit for this spectacular feat, incomparably the most important achieved in the given length of time in all history, must be given to the Italians and their brilliant leader. Other Ally troops were on the Italian front—British, French and one regiment of Americans—but the Italians did the bulk of the fighting. Italian genius, Italian dash, bravery and unconquerable spirit, won the victory.

The glory of Italy is great, indeed. She proved true to herself. Her army vindicated the righteousness of the Italian cause and humbled the invader for all time.

THE ELECTION.

The outstanding feature of yesterday's elections throughout the country is the gain of the Republican membership in both houses of Congress.

The voters of the country have expressed themselves everywhere in favor of prosecution of the war until the enemy surrenders unconditionally. They have gone on record against any peace by compromise bargaining. President Wilson's war policy as so far defined has been endorsed by the Republicans. This is the message that will go forth to Germany today. It means that America is united upon a program for complete and permanent victory over Germany.

President Wilson's support of candidates whose record was against the war and in favor of peace by bargaining was futile. Henry Ford of Michigan, a registered Republican running on the Democratic Senate ticket, apparently has been beaten, although he had the personal endorsement of the President and the active support of the Democratic administration. Even a close race is a rebuke to the administration. Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, who has been for negotiations with the enemy, was defeated for re-election. Folk of Missouri, candidate to succeed the late Senator Stone, was beaten. Speaker Champ Clark of Missouri, who declared on the floor of the House during the debate on the selective draft bill that "there is little difference between a conscript and a convict," has had a very "close shave," although two years ago he was acclaimed "first citizen of Missouri."

In other districts men who opposed the war, whether as Democrats or Republicans, have lost in strength. Apparently Congressman E. A. Hayes of Santa Clara county, who voted against the declaration of war, has been defeated.

Aside from the war policy, the Democratic administration has been repudiated. The composition of the next Congress may possibly mean that Speaker Champ Clark will answer for his insult to 22,000,000 draft registrants by retiring from office; that Hon. Claude Kitchin, the small-minded provincial of Scotland Neck, South Carolina, whose chairmanship of the important House ways and means committee has been the scandal of the administration, will be displaced; that Chairman Dent of the House military affairs committee, who has consistently opposed the war and all important war measures, will give way to a Republican, probably Hon. Julius Kahn of Californinia.

America has been given incalculable new strength by the result of the election. A peace by victory program has been endorsed and demanded of the government. Control of the nation by Southern Democrats has been repudiated and a demand voiced for preparation to solve the problems to follow the termination of the war.

A BEGINNING.

With the action of the United States Senate of October 10 in ratifying the new treaty between this country and Uruguay, the first step was taken in the conclusion of a series of uniform treaties with the Latin American governments regarding commercial travelers and their samples. The negotiation of this treaty has been brought about by the International High Commission, which was created to give effect to the recommendations of the first Pan-American financial conference held in Washington in May, 1915. As adopted, the treaty incorporates the principles recommended by the International High Commission at its first general meeting held in Buenos Aires in April, 1916, and nearly coincides with the draft of the proposed uniform treaty prepared by the central executive council of the High Commission. The only variation consists in the addition of a clause in article 1 permitting the exclusion of undesirable aliens in time of war.

It is designed that the present treaty shall serve as the basis for treaties with other Latin American countries. It is understood that negotiations for the conclusion of similar treaties are now in progress, and that more than half of the countries comprising the Pan-American Union have signified their willingness to negotiate treaties regarding commercial travelers with the United States.

While an international agreement on the subject of commercial travelers and their samples may not at first sight seem of great importance, there are high expectations that much general good will come out of this action. In the first place, it is the beginning of uniformity in the practices of the many nations of Latin America and the United States. This is in itself an important forward step. Indeed, it may not be far afield to say that this treaty with Uruguay and those that are expected to follow with other countries will constitute a sound groundwork for general cooperation in business and commerce among the nations of the Western Hemisphere.

Such a development has been the dream of business operators and statesmen for many years. The idea has at last found expression in a formal international document. That is an important beginning. It creates the hope of further advancement.

NOTES and COMMENT

Jupiter Pluvius has been quite reasonable, extending timely aid to withering lawns, dissembling on election day, giving the voter a perfect chance.

Switzerland will be able to start a Potentate Club, to judge from the kings who have lost their jobs and who are headed that way. Carl of Austria is the latest, and the kaiser's trunks are reported as having arrived.

* * *

There is something in the thought that the allies may now have to tarry awhile after the main task has been wrought and straighten up the affairs of the countries that have been thrown in chaos by the war. Some of them may not be able to establish a new order immediately and may need assistance till they can turn around.

* * *

All accounts are to the effect that the Germans interned in the various camps are entirely unrepentant and inclined to hold the Americans as ridiculously easy because they are treated so leniently. They know how they would have fared had they been treated as American prisoners were in Germany. Our leniency may cause some to doubt as to its justice just now, but in after years it will be remembered with satisfaction.

Austria never ranked as a high-class naval power, yet its roster of craft shows 251 vessels. Very recent events have enabled the nations interested to ascertain this fact with the utmost accuracy.

The news is to the effect that Vienna is "overjoyed" because of the armistice. As the armistice involves terms that bear particularly hard on Austria, the intense rejoicing has to be explained in the fact that the Viennese are now to get something to eat.

* * *

For subtly bringing about the chaos in Russia the Germans exacted an indemnity from the Russians. Two installments had been paid, when the Russians suddenly awoke to the fact that they didn't have to. Apparently they had previously considered it perfectly proper to pay for their own undoing.

As events are now trending, the kaiser is in a way to lose not only his crown, but the protuberance where it has been resting.

Congressman Kahn, one of the best performing Republicans, thinks that every true friend of the President wishes he had not made that break, but doesn't go to the severe extreme of criticism that he might be warranted in, considering the way he has stood in with administration effort. It is not his way, however, to be cutting in his utterances.

Some of the barbarities of this war are well over—the fiendishness of gas, for one thing. One of the ends of whatever proceedings are involving a permanent peace should be a provision that will make this beastliness impossible.

The flu is undoubtedly on the wane, and while it may not be proven according to rules of evidence governing an inquiry at law, there is small doubt that the mask is largely to be credited with the epidemic's subsidence.

An international observer is trying to "gloom" this victory by warning against "internationalism." After the enthusiasm subsides he thinks there will be danger from forces which raged in Russia and are present in every country.

Wellington enjoyed the highest fame and honors that his country could bestow for delivering it from a man obsessed with a mad ambition. But his country was chiefly concerned. The world is delivered of this present monster and the fame that will come to Foch will be vastly greater and more imperishable.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

Atrophied view of the Chico Enterprise: "A Chicago woman has sued for divorce. She says she didn't learn until after they were married that he had only one leg. He ought to be a better husband than a man with two legs. He can't kick so much."

Down here in the favored land of the western sun, one hears little of the inroads made by the epidemic. Long ago we learned to take the necessary precautions and doubtless there is less talk about this plague in our midst than in any other place in the United States. We have the sunshine and quantities of ozone and good sense. We have used, and are going to continue to use, all of them, and the chances are we will still keep on in the still glad tenor of our respective way.—Holtville Tribune.

Warm, dry weather has greatly aided the bean harvest during the past week. The fields east of Ventura are being rapidly cleaned up. In a few days more the harvest will be over. The yield near this city is very heavy, many fields going as high as 40 to 45 sacks per acre.—Ventura Free Press.

PARACHUTE JUMP FROM AIRPLANE.

The first successful experiment on record of jumping from a moving airplane with a parachute was recently made by Captain Sarrat, a French aviator. This intrepid airman leaped from a height of 800 yards with an umbrella some twelve yards in diameter, and landed safely. He was three minutes in the air, suspended from the parachute. Previous to this test numerous experiments were carried out in France with sandbags, and the practicability of the scheme was established beyond reasonable doubt. But it goes without saying, nevertheless, that it required real courage to be the first to risk life and limb in an actual test.—Scientific American

SOMETHING'S GOING TO DROP PRETTY SOON!

By BRUCE BARTON.

He is a conscientious gentleman, who honestly wants to do right. And he came to me shaking his head.

"I want to do my full part in the United War Work campaign," he said. 'Do you think a hundred dollars is my share?"

And I told him that it would be hard for anyone but himself to decide. "There are so many different ways of looking at money," I said.

A hundred and seventy millions looks big at first glance. It is forty times what Jefferson gave for the Louisiana territory.

It's a dollar and seventy cents for every man, woman and child in the land; it's more than eight dollars and a half for every household.

"You can figure it on that basis," I told him. "On the basis of dollars and cents. Or you can figure it on the basis of boys."

"Of boys?" he questioned. "I do not understand."

"It's less than fifteen cents a day for each of our soldiers and sailors," I answered. "Fifteen cents a day to give them warmth and comfort and entertainment, and lectures, and games, and the thought of mother and of God.

"Fifteen cents a day for a boy; two for a quarter a day. How many boys will you take?"

And his eyes kindled. "I think I could take ten at least," he said. He drew his checkbook out.

"Figure it out and tell me the price," he said. "I want you to give them the best you've got. What is it going to cost for ten boys, for a year, at two for a quarter a day?"

So I figured it out for him; suppose you figure it out for yourself.

GERMAN PROFITEERING

One of the many evils foisted on hopeless Belgium by the German military command was a system of trade monopolies, the highly organized and pernicious results of which are described by Brand Whitlock in Everybody's for November. "There was, back in the labyrinth of the German organization, farther back behind even the military clique itself, a system, dark, mysterious, sinisher, well camouflaged, working silently and remorselessly through the Zentrale, or central bureaus.

"They were in reality limited companies to which the Government of Occupation granted monopolies. That is, the Butter-Zentrale had a monopoly of butter, the Kartoffel-Zentrale had a monopoly of potatoes, when it could get any, and so on as to all sorts of products.

"These bureaus, each with its monopoly, had behind them in every case decrees of the governor-general forbidding all trading by others in the article in question. In some quarters it was said that half of the profits they made went to the German army; in other quarters it was asserted that they went elsewhere.

"The managers of any given Zentrale, holding as they did the monopoly, would buy the products of the producers, and, to justify its existence, would lay aside from five to twenty per cent of it for Belgian consumption. The local brokers, sometimes renegade Belgians, sometimes Germans who came into the country to profit by the situation, would buy that product of the Zentrale, but it was openly said that in order to obtain a stock of any commodity it was necessary to bribe certain employees of the Zentrale. The brokers were always willing to pay large commissions—a thousand marks for a stock of sugar was said not to be unusual. The brokers could easily afford to pay this, because, having a monopoly, they could extract from the consumers, who were among the easier class in Belgium, what prices they pleased, and I was told that brokers and the corrupt officials of the Zentrale in this way built up considerable fortunes."

POLISH COLLEGE STUDENTS ARE UNDER SURVEILLANCE

Students in the Polish universities have been so open and fearless in their anti-German demonstrations that it has been necessary to place them under surveillance. Although these boys are nearly all under 21 years of age, they have been among the most active elements in their agitation for a free Poland.

While some of their performances savor of the traditional pranks of the college freshman, the patriotic motive behind them has caused the Germans to regard them with deep gravity. Their first outburst took place on January 23, 1917, immediately following President Wilson's declaration in favor of a free Polish state. On that occasion they danced and marched all night through the streets of Warsaw.

After the Brest-Litovsk treaty they hung streamers of crape from their dormitory windows. They also held a burlesque representation of the signing of the treaty, which was considered so seditious that the German soldiers broke it up. Shooting and wounding two of the participants. After the Versailles meeting of June 3, a jollification meeting was held.

A letter of Governor-General von Beseler to the rector of the University of Warsaw comments bitterly upon the boys' behavior, and declares that the German authorities cannot "yield to the wishes and demonstrative displays of politically unripe youths." Evidently Von Beseler's remonstrance had little effect for the order placing the universities under military surveillance soon followed.

LATEST IN STONE SHIPS.

The main objection to the stone ship is not that it will crack easily when subjected to jolt or punch, but that it will rot more readily than wood or steel. The known fact is that salt water rots concrete. But, according to a statement accredited to H. J. Brunier, who is the supervisor of concrete ship construction at San Francisco for the emergency fleet, the construction of forty-two concrete ships has been provided for, and it is in contemplation to construct this kind of ship as numerously and as rapidly as dependable contracts for them can be placed.

This is what the Pacific Coast representative of the Shipping Board says about the concrete ship—that it is lighter than the wooden ship—that it costs less by the deadweight tonnage than either the wooden or the steel ship, but that the time requisite to construction averages about the same for the wooden, the steel or the concrete ship. He says that the only thing the Shipping Board is worrying about is the lifetime of a stone ship; that while it lasts it is as strong as a steel ship.

It depends upon what the normal life of a concrete ship will be whether or not the rotting tendency is a fatal defect. If the time limit is five years that will probably be long enough to make the concrete vessels a valuable addition to the emergency fleet. Doubtless a method of treatment will eventually be discovered that will render concrete impervious to the disintegrating influences of salt water.—Baltimore American.

THE SHIPWRIGHT'S CHANTEY.

Clink, clank, clinkety, clink,
Over the boom of the seas,
Over the chant of the wild west wind
In the tops of the forest trees,
Over the beat of the rolling drum,
And the tune that the bugle sings,
And the rhythmic tramp of marching feet,
The song of the rivet rings.

The vessel bearing the Stripes and Stars
And the flower of our armies brave
Must find her plates and her timbers firm
To the strain of the wind and wave.
The bullets hum and the rivets sing,
And the blended sounds shall be
A chantey made for the deep sea trade,
And a hymn of victory.

Clink, clank, clinkety, clink,
Pounding them in to stay,
The mighty forces of steam and steel
Tirelessly work all day.
There are cargoes waiting from coast to coast
For ships to carry them off in,
And every rivet we hammer home
Is a nail in the kaiser's coffin.

CRUMBED POTATOES.

Wash and scrape potatoes and cut them in halves lengthwise. Boil them until tender, but not broken, in salted water, to which a sprig of mint has been added. When cooked take out the potatoes, leave them on a clean, dry cloth and allow them to drain for a few minutes. Then roll them in bread crumbs, brush over with egg which has been slightly beaten, and then give them another coating of crumbs. Fry until brown in smoking hot fat. Drain and dust with salt and serve hot.—Ohio State Journal.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

If You Would Have A Lovely Face Protect Your Body Properly.

BY DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D.
(Johns Hopkins University.)

You would hardly call a sallow skin pretty or a pair of sunken eyes beautiful. You would not say that a red nose is handsome, nor that a pair of trembling, blue lips are sweet. These conditions are not natural and for that reason have not the beauty characteristic of calmness and composure.

These parts of the human mechanism sooner than other parts, are ready to show the effects of a poorly managed costume. If the anatomy, for example, feels chilled, it is through a sneeze that the abnormal condition is usually expressed. After a number of sneezes the handkerchief must be applied more often and the skin of the nostrils becomes irritated. Soon the eyes commence to water and the voice to get coarse. After the lapse of a day or so it is hardly possible for the individual to tell where she "took cold."

PROTECTING THE SKIN.

It is chiefly during the period between summer and winter that such conditions occur. At these seasons of the year the weather is very variable and the air changes rapidly from cold to warm and warm to cold. It is at these times, therefore, that proper clothing should meet the dangers in the air, which work against the beauty of a woman's features and complexion.

The cutaneous covering of the human machine has for one of its functions the secretion of superfluous moisture and heat in the form of perspiration. It is essential, because of this process, to protect the skin from too sudden contact with the changing atmosphere. If this is not done evaporation becomes too rapid and the surface of the mechanism becomes suddenly chilled.

SOME COMPLEXION PENALITIES.

The tiny fibers of the skin are not deprived of their due of the vermilion stream when there is a garment against them which prevents heat or cold from penetrating too rapidly. Such a garment as flannel, for example, is an excellent nonconductor of heat or cold and protects the mechanism against the dangers of a rapidly changing climate.

It is due largely to the use of muslin underwear by the falsely heroic women that brings about a red nose, sore throat or complete loss of voice. It is similarly due to the ultimate use of very thin hose that the complexion loses its natural color—the skin becomes pale and puckered like goose flesh and the lips become blue and trembling. The lack of sufficient protection for the skin thus brings about a condition serious and dangerous to appearance and personality such as could be avoided by the proper precaution in the use of flannel undergarments during certain seasons of the year.

VOLUME LXXXX. OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESD AY EVENING, NOVEMBER 6, 1918. A NO. 72.

City Leases on Water Front Are Upheld by State Supreme Court

WILL THROW OPEN LAND TO FACTORIES

A decision by the Supreme Court upholding the leases made by the city several years ago for waterfront property on the East Oakland shores of the estuary, has been decided in favor of the lessees, according to word received today by A. H. Breed from Guy C. Earl, who represented the industries holding leases in the test case.

The decision is of far-reaching effect in that it makes safe the leaseholds of some of the largest factories in Oakland and throws open a vast amount of available factory land which industries heretofore were afraid to utilize, fearing that an adverse decision would halt their plans.

The case, brought by the city of Oakland shortly after the election of Mayor John L. Davie, was filed by former City Attorney Paul C. Morf against the Larue Wharf and Warehouse Company, Davie holding that the leases, made under the Mott administration, were illegal in that there was not sufficient consideration. His first campaign was made with attacks on the leases, which he alleged were "giving away the waterfront."

The lessees, then holding what they had thought valid title to the sites they occupied, had found that these titles might not hold, as the State Supreme Court had decided, in the case of the Southern Pacific, that the lands on the east shore of the estuary were rightfully the city's.

The administration of former Mayor Frank K. Mott compromised with these landholders, offering them cheap long-term leases in consideration of which the lessees agreed to forego any right to contest their titles, or in other words stipulated that the city should receive title to the land.

SUFFICIENT CONSIDERATION.

This agreement to forego legal rights was held by the Supreme Court in the decision to be good and sufficient consideration, Earl pointing out that the waiver had saved the city thousands of dollars in lawsuits that would have been necessary otherwise to establish title.

The decision affects the dock and warehouse company's holdings, the Breed & Bancroft holdings and other important factory and warehouse sites. According to Senator A. H. Breed it means that many industries that heretofore had hesitated to accept leases on these lands, may now establish in Oakland.

The waterfront affected by the decision is that strip from the foot of Fifth avenue easterly to the tidal canal.

In the decision the Supreme Court en banc upholds the decision of Superior Judge Everett Brown, awarding verdict to defendant.

The matter has been in litigation for more than five years. Suit to test validity of leases was made by the city of Oakland in 1911 to various occupants of the waterfront land and the present city administration held leases so made to be invalid. The suit affects about twelve miles of waterfront and involves millions of dollars.

OTHER INTERESTS.

Other large interests involved besides the defeendant are the Sessions Waterfront Company, E. C. Sessions, Pacific Steel and Wire Company and others.

A context of the decision, written by Justice J. Richards and concurred in by Justices Shaw, Wilbur, Sloss, Melvin and Angelotti, is as follows:

"As to the first of the foregoing reasons for the alleged invalidity of the lease in question, the contention of the city of Oakland is this, that the purpose of the state of California in the enactment of the statute of 1911 by which Oakland was granted the land along the San Antonio estuary, including the premises in question of the Larue Wharf and Warehouse Company, was to insure the development of a harbor through the use of the land conveyed by said grant in such a manner as would tend to promote commerce and navigation, and that this being so, whatever leases were contemplated or authorized by the terms of said act must be such as would effectuate said purpose and hence must have contained provisions making the use and improvement of the land by the lessees thereof along land conducive to such purpose obligatory and not optional on the part of such lessees; and that this not having been done in respect to the form and terms of the lease in question here, it is void as in violation of the spirit and purpose of the act authorizing its execution.

"We are unable to agree with Oakland's contention in the above regard to the extent of giving to the terms of the act of 1911 such an interpretation as would render a lease couched in the language of the instrument and under which the Larue company claims a leasehold interest in the land in question void. This being so, the other alleged errors of law occurring at the trial become immaterial and do not merit a separate consideration. Judgment is affirmed."

LOW RECORD FOR "FLU" CASES MADE

The health department's report for the number of new cases of influenza yesterday shows the lowest record since the epidemic became general in this community. The death rate also dropped to one-half of that of the previous day, 22 deaths being reported as against 41 the day before. Releases also increased and the total cases on hand took a decided drop, all of which, the health authorities say, indicates that the disease is now on the decrease and that this week will see the number of new cases reported drop to almost nothing.

Health Officer Daniel Crosby, who has worked night and day ever since the epidemic broke out, except for a few days when he was confined to his home with a mild attack of the flue, today stated that the people were justified in taking a very optimistic view of the situation. "But," said Dr. Crosby, feel happy and wear your masks."

"I feel that we can say with a great deal of confidence that Oakland has seen the worst of the influenza epidemic," said Fred F. Morse, commissioner of public health and safety, this morning. The figures now show a gratifying decrease in the number of new cases and the death rate seems to be on the decline also.

REMAIN ON GUARD.

"In spite of this favorable condition, however, I am not in the least bit inclined to heed the numerous pleas being made to this department for a relaxation in the regulations now in force that are designed to check the spread of the influenza. There is a great deal of pressure being brought to bear in many quarters, but after having discussed the matter with Dr. Crosby, health officer, I am not disposed to favor any relaxation.

"I notice that many cities that have taken stringent measures and later relaxed, have been forced to take stricter measures later. We have spent too much money now to let it be lost by opening up things too soon. We feel that the situation is under control. But this does not mean that we are out of the woods by a long shot.

A total of 27 new cases were received at the emergency influenza hospital in the Auditorium in the past 24 hours up to 9 o'clock this morning, and six deaths were reported. The releases in the 24-hour period total 62, of these many being dismissed as cured and a few going to the convalescent hospital at De Fremery Park for a few days' further care.

This is the largest decrease in new cases reported to date at the hospital.

Berkeleyans Protest Flu Masks
Alameda Has Disease Controlled

BERKELEY, Nov. 6. — Protesting against the flu mask as unsanitary, 35 residents of the college city filed a petition with the Berkeley city council this morning asking that the ordinance forcing the wearing of the protective gauze guards be repealed.

"As voters, we, the undersigned, do hereby protest against the wearing of masks because they are unsanitary," was the brief text of the petition. The protest was filed by the council without comment. Communications condemning the masking law were also received by the council this morning from H. H. Wilson, Alice L. Taylor, Kate Cozzens, Dora C. Carver, Mrs. T. Maud Kingston and Walter N. Fischer.

FOOLISH TO RELAX.

That flu masks will be continued to be worn until the disease is checked was the declaration this morning of Charles D. Heywood, commissioner of public health and safety.

"It would be foolish to relax precautions now just as the malady shows signs of being checked," declared Heywood. "It would be equally foolish to open theaters and other places of crowds if persons congregate at this time."

Signatures to the protest against the flu mask were affixed by the following persons:

H. H. Hobson, Melf. I. Schween, W. W. Nichols, Stella E. Goodhead, Mary F. Heinz, Caroline E. Kimball, Estelle S. Hill, Katherine M. Robinson, Gene E. Burgess, Mrs. Mary Hull, Laura J. Frank, Dora E. Ellerhorst, Zadia L. Adams, Alice M. Keane, Leslie C. Piburn, E. M. Carpenter, Jessie Elizabeth Wood, Agnes M. Cleaveland, Marion C. Jones, Blanche M. I. Johnson, Mrs. Paul Ruben, Mrs. Adell Foy, Daisy May Haber, Mrs. Hilma Paige, Mrs. H. P. Thrall, Mrs. L. Culver, F. L. Butterfield, E. F. Fairchild, G. L. Schneider, W. B. Fuller, C. C. Chubb, George A. Dow, H. H. Warner.

TWO R

ELEVEN CASES REPORTED.

But eleven cases of influenza were reported to the Berkeley health board yesterday, the small number, it was declared by health officials, being due to the fact that yesterday was a holiday. No decided increase, it was declared, was being shown this morning in the report of new cases and officials say the disease has been undoubtedly checked. Four deaths were reported yesterday.

At a meeting of the Berkeley Board of Education yesterday an emergency committee consisting of Dr. Roy I. Woolsey, president of the board, and Superintendent H. B. Wilson and Assistant Superintendent M. C. James was named with power to act in the reopening of schools.

MILDER IN ALAMEDA.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 6. — Since the reports of the new number of cases from the health department have averaged the same for the last few days confidence is felt that the epidemic is rapidly losing its grip. Today 45 new cases have developed. The encouraging feature in these cases is that they are in a much milder form than those reported earlier in the epidemic.

The patients at the hospital are improving rapidly, one case being discharged and one case being added yesterday. The appetizing meals which are sent in from the health kitchen are tempting the invalids and are of material benefit in restoring their health. One peculiarity of the influenza is the weakening after-effects and much proper nourishment is necessary to offset this.

The most urgent calls for help are now coming from the health department. The nurses who have taken care of the patients since the beginning of the siege are all but exhausted and not in a condition to take care of the patients who are now coming down with the malady. Consequently the call for other assistance in the nursing line is most urgent.

40 FINED $10 EACH AS MASK LAW VIOLATORS

Twenty-seven persons were arrested for violating the flu mask ordinance yesterday afternoon and last night. In the police court this morning forty violators either paid fines of $10 or forfeited $10 bail. No excuses of any kind were accepted by the police judges.

MORE WEIGHT, STRENGTH, VIGOR AND NERVE-FORCE

If You Take Bitro-Phosphate—Says Dr. F. S. Kolle

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by the Owl Drug Co. and all good druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back.

Frederick Kolle, M. D., editor of New York Physician's "Who's Who," says: "Bitro-Phosphate should be prescribed by every doctor and used in every hospital to increase strength and nerve force and to enrich the blood."

By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION — Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.—Advertisement.

A Good Piano Is Not Necessarily an Expensive One

Of course we feel that the finest piano is the STEINWAY, but the prices for Steinways, while thoroughly consistent with their high quality, are generally beyond the means of many homes.

For this very reason we have devoted much attention to a group of medium grade pianos—really famous makes—products of old-established firms—pianos for which we have been the selling agents for years. In offering such pianos as A. B. CHASE, KRAKAUER, ESTEY, KURTZMANN and EMERSON, we can heartily recommend them as ideal for the home or school. The prices of these pianos are within the reach of nearly everybody.

GREGORY BEST PITCHER B. ARLETT COMES NEXT

By EDDIE MURPHY.

IF LUCK were to break against the Hanlon shipyard team and Howard Gregory could not pitch any of the remaining four games on the schedule, and the Hanlon team lost the pennant, Bill Kenworthy would have one good alibi to offer the fans. Pitching averages compiled from the games played during the first twenty-two weeks of the season show that Gregory is the best of the mound artists in the Shipbuilders' league, with "Buz" Arlett, the young hurler of the Moore team, getting up a strong argument with him. Gregory has pitched ten games and won nine of them, while Arlett has won six and lost two.

Gregory has the distinction of being the hardest worked pitcher in the league, having pitched 108 full innings, while Arlett is his nearest rival, having pitched 78. Had it not been for the fact that Gregory has been laid up for the past month will illness, he would have pitched more games. But as it is, there is hardly a chance of any pitcher beating him out of the honors with only four more games to be played.

In checking up the batting averages made by the opposing batters against each pitcher, Charley Pruiett of the Alameda team has held the opponents to a lower average than any other pitcher. An average of .165 was piled up against his pitching, while Artie Benham falls in line with the next lowest, it being .174. Buz Arlett has held the opposition to an average of .177, and considering the number of innings that he has pitched the glory really belongs to him.

Howard Gregory's record is a fine one considering that he has pitched 108 innings and held the opposition to an average of .194. Also the opposition had more chances to get that average off Gregory than they did off Arlett, as Howard's teammates made 27 errors behind him, while seventeen were made behind Arlett. The main thing that a manager wants his pitchers to do is to win the ball games, and that is just what Howard Gregory has gone out and done, no matter how hard the batters hit him.

It has often been remarked that a pitcher may have very little on the ball and still win games by knowing how to use his head, and that is just how Gregory is getting by. When men are on the bags, Gregory pitches hard, but otherwise he leaves the work to the men in the field behind him.

Arlett has fanned the most batters in the league, the scores showing that 49 have been forced back to the bench by him via the strikeout route. Gregory's control has been good, the big fellow walking but nineteen in those 108 innings that he has pitched, and he has not hit a batter. As usual it is a southpaw pitcher who has walked the most batters. Artie Benham is the fellow, he having issued 23 free passes to first. Buz Arlett is the next wildest, with 20. The following table is for all games to date, giving the number of innings pitched by each pitcher, base on balls issued by them, their number of strikeouts, games won and lost and the number of runs scored and base hits made by the opposing batters:

St. Mary's Football Team Will Give California a Stubborn Battle Saturday

Blue and Gold Determined to Wipe Out the Defeat Sustained Last Year

By BOB SHAND

WHEN the University of California and St. Mary's football teams meet at California field next Saturday afternoon there will be more than the usual excitement. The California students have not forgotten what the Broadway boys did to their pets last season and they are going to pull hard for a California victory this year. Last season St. Mary's was not conceded a chance against the wonderful aggregation assembled by Coach Andy Smith, and the average football fan felt sorry for the Oakland boys. But St. Mary's proved the one large surprise of the season and emerged on the long end of the score. Maybe they will not repeat Saturday, but they are sure to cause the Berkeley boys plenty of trouble.

The California rooters did not like the actions of some of the St. Mary's supporters in the last game. Some of the more exuberant rooters invaded the sidelines in the last few minutes of play and at a time when California was close to scoring. This was not considered ethical by the Californians and they have never forgiven the Broadway rooters.

Andy Smith knows that his charges must win Saturday in order to maintain interest in the big game with Stanford. A defeat for the Blue and Gold would take the edge off the Stanford game and hurt the attendance, so Smith is anxious to win for two reasons, to avenge the defeat of last season and make the California-Stanford game the means of drawing thousands of dollars for the United War Work fund.

LITTLE TIME FOR TRAINING AT U. C.

Smith has been badly handicapped through his inability to get all his men out for practice at the same time. The various units are given different hours for athletic practice and Smith is finding it hard to have his men work in unison. It has been almost impossible to teach them trick plays and the team work of the eleven is not what it ought to be. Also Andy can hold practice for an hour at the most.

This is some considerable change from the old days when the football coach reigned supreme. He had the players at his disposal every afternoon and sometimes ordered them out in the evenings to practice by electric light. Now, Mr. Coach is a very small potato in the scheme of things at the universities where army officers are in charge. Military training is the one big thing and football and other sports have to play second fiddle to bayonet drills and the manual of arms.

However, Coach Smith is confident he has an eleven capable of defeating the St. Mary's eleven and most of the students agree with Andy. But you can never make the St. Mary's players or adherents believe that California is going to win that ball game Saturday. Confidence permeates the atmosphere at St. Mary's and players and rooters alike can see nothing but defeat for the Blue and Gold. The way Coach Russell Wilson is working his men would indicate that he is preparing for a hard contest.

Wilson has the boys out every afternoon and there is nothing gentle about their tackling. With a pair of teams picked from the squad some of the most strenuous football of the year has been seen on the St. Mary's grounds and it is little wonder that casual spectators thought the varsity was tackling some deadly rival.

HONOLULU PLAYER IS STAR WITH ST. MARY'S.

Wilson expects a lot from Noble Kouhane, the Honolulu boy who was picked up on several all-star island elevens. Noble has proved a valuable man in the games played to date and he is just rounding into form. He was a triffe fat when practice commenced but is in playing trim now and will develop into a star, according to his teammates and coach.

Swede Olson will also have to be reckoned with. The big blonde is still the same daring, tearing player who stops at nothing. He had his sweater torn off and his head cut in a practice game the other afternoon but wanted to continue. That is the St. Mary's spirit.

The recruits are showing up in fine shape and Wilson is going to do a lot of deep thinking before selecting the team to meet California. When the eleven is finally picked there will be a dozen substitutes on the sidelines ready and able to uphold the honor of St. Mary's.

ARE READY FOR DRIVE OAKLAND WILL DO BIT

OAKLAND is going to go over the top with a bang in the United War Work campaign. The machinery has been oiled up, the real substantial men of the city have taken off their coats and everybody is pulling together.

The tentative program consists of a big boxing show at the Emeryville arena about November 20, a field day at J. Cal Ewing's ball lot in Emeryville, golf matches at the Sequoya and Claremont country clubs, soccer, tennis and football contests.

The boxing committee got down to work at a meeting held Monday night and last evening the bright lights of the city's commercial interests foregathered in the city hall and cleared the deck for action.

Everybody is going to be asked to buy tickets for the various athletic contests but those who cannot attend and those who are overburdened with kale will be asked to make straight donations.

Oakland's honor is at stake again. We must raise $243,568 within a couple of weeks, but with the sporting men and business interests working together this should be as easy as rolling off a log.

BUSINESS MEN ORGANIZE.

Here is the caliber of men who met in the city hall last night and decided to give their best efforts to the great work: R. C. Capwell, S. E. Biddle, Frank de Lisle, F. A. Briggs, J. H. Hibbe, G. A. Young, R. B. Ayres, C. B. Monroe, Frank Bilger, H. K. Jackson, Henry Kahn, M. L. Camp, J. N. Phillips, J. M. Burrowes, F. B. Hink, A. Jones, J. Kirkland, Gordon M. Gliddon, Judge W. H. Waste, O. F. Olsen, A. N. Moore, W. J. Calder, D. E. Perkins, G. N. Hatch, F. B. Bridges, Judge W. H. Donahue.

A project cannot fail with these men behind it. Others of the same caliber who wanted to attend were tied up with election duties and sent their apologies but they will be ready to step in and do their bit.

Tomorrow night the boxing committee will meet at the Hotel Oakland to arrange a date for the show and line up a tentative card. All the boxers in the city have promised to donate their services and there will be plenty of talent. The field day will be arranged later.

Get ready to help.

Herbert Hauser Will Assist in War Work Drive

Herbert Hauser, secretary of the P. A. A., received a telegram this morning from W. W. Roper, executive secretary of the United War Work Campaign, asking him to take charge of all amateur athletic activities here in connection with the drive.

Hauser has not had an opportunity of meeting with any of the local committees, but he will endeavor to get in touch with them this evening.

For the past fifteen years Hauser has devoted a great deal of his time to amateur athletics. He took charge of the athletic events at the P. P. I. E. when this part of the program seemed doomed to failure and he made a success of it. He is ideally adapted for the work to which he has been assigned.

In order that the amateur end of the program be attended to at once, Hauser is anxious to get in touch with those interested. His telephone number is Merritt 3635.

Begin Practice for Basketball Games at St. Mary's College

The basketball is already being tossed about at St. Mary's college gymnasium, and each evening sees about forty of the boys attending S. A. T. C. in practice. Athletic Director Lieutenant Nuland is hopeful of seeing the college represented by a strong five, and with the aid of "Swede" Olson and Freitas, he should pick some classy hoopers from the forty that practice. Nuland is not ready to claim any basketball championship for the college team this season, but says that many teams will find the college boys tough pickings.

No Chance of an Argument Between Shipbuilders and Midwinter Baseball Leagues

Fred Krumb's Organization is Amateur Body With Only Two Pros Allowed.

BECAUSE Joe Tobin, Harvey Christensen, "Wiz" Kremer and a few other players of the Shipbuilders' League have been announced in the line-ups in the Midwinter League does not mean that the midwinter organization has opened a fight against the Shipbuilders' League. In the Midwinter League only two players who have played in organized baseball within the last two years will be permitted to play with each club, and furthermore, the managers in the Midwinter League are not looking for arguments with other leagues.

The player limit in the Alameda County Midwinter League is fifteen, and thirteen of those players must be amateurs. Now how do you suppose enough amateur players can be picked from teams in the Shipbuilders' league to weaken them any? Not more than two or three clubs in the Shipbuilders' league have a couple of players that might be termed amateurs, as most of them have served in the majors, Coast or Pacific Northwest league. The Shipbuilders' league has four more weeks to travel before the race will be over, and then it is expected that another league will be formed to include Pittsburg and Crockett. The players in the Shipbuilders' league all hold positions at the yards where they work, while the Midwinter league has but one team that might offer the players positions for the week, and that is the C. L. Best Tractors. What a fine chance the Midwinter league managers would have in bucking the Shipbuilders' league! although they have no intentions, and when they hold their open-air meeting tonight, they will probably pass a resolution to the effect that no trouble be started. Fred Krumb, Charley Thollander, William Wagner, Manuel Duarte, Trick Kues, Joe Vitt, Lawrence Ratto and Billy Gordon are men who have been connected with bush ball about the bay for years and know that scrapping between two leagues will not do the game any good. And Jerry Lawlor, for the past few seasons president of Midwinter leagues, is connected with the Fruitvale team and he would be the last to start anything. So the Alameda County Midwinter league will open its season next Sunday with six teams and none of those teams will have more than two professional players. The league would be run as a strictly amateur affair, but it is best to have a couple of men on the teams to show the youngsters the finer points of the game, and if any promising material is being hidden the professional players will find it.

MIDWINTER LEAGUE MEETING WILL TAKE PLACE TONIGHT.

On some corner in town, the managers and directors of the Alameda County Midwinter league will gather at a few minutes open-air meeting. The list of players for all clubs must be in the hands of the secretary tonight, as does the deposit money for each club. If more than two professional players are found in the list, it will be up to the manager to cut down to the limit of two. The directors of the league will make no allowances, whether it is impossible to get amateur players or not. Umpires and scorers for games will also be picked.

Final plans for the opening of the league will be made. So far as is known the Halton and Diddens of Alameda will meet the Oakland Commission Merchants at Lincoln park, and the Vitt Grays will tackle the C. L. Best Tractors at San Leandro. Jerry Lawlor and Charley Thollander will make an announcement tonight whether the Fruitvale-Crystal Laundry game will be played at the Coast league park in the morning or at Fruitvale.

Jack Fallon Is in England and Likes His Job

Jack Fallon, who used to act as private secretary to Bob Castro and look after the corner of Twelfth and Broadway during Castro's absence, has arrived safely in England, according to a letter received in this office today:

"Arrived safely in England and everything is fine and dandy," wrote Jack. "Maybe I will get a crack at the Huns before they quit. I hope so. Give my regards to the bunch at Twelfth and Broadway and tell Bob Castro I will kill more Huns than he will ducks this season."

Fallon is a skilled mechanic and will be attached to the motor corps. He left Oakland eight months ago for training at Corvalis and passed his examinations with high honors.

Meehan and Fulton Are Paired Off

The Meehan-Fulton bout has been cinched for San Francisco and will be the main event of the benefit for the United War Work fund. Meehan's superior officer, Chief Gunner Alden, talked matters over with the promoters yesterday and agreed to let the sailor box the elongated Minnesotan.

Alden was moved because some one in this vicinity sent Meehan a telegram advising him not to box Fulton and promising Willie a crack at Krovosky, but for the good of the cause the runner promised to let the champion of the navy tangle with tall Freddie.

Should Meehan win he will be sent to London, Eng., to represent the 12th naval district in the service championship tournament to take place the middle of next month. Boxers from all the allied countries will take part.

Send The TRIBUNE to the boys at Camp Lewis. Home news will be deeply appreciated by the boys of the National Army.

Last Rites for Late Chas. Swain Tomorrow P. M.

Funeral services for the late Charlie Swain, popular baseball player, will be held tomorrow afternoon under the auspices of the Elks, of which organization the late athlete was a member for many years.

Hundreds of messages of condolence have been received by the widow from all parts of the country. Charlie was probably one of the most popular players that ever wore a Coast League uniform, and it can be truthfully said that he did not have an enemy in the world.

Oregon vs. Aggies Game Called Off on Account of Flu

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 5.—The annual football game between the University of Oregon and Oregon Agricultural College scheduled for Saturday of this week in Eugene, has been cancelled on account of the influenza epidemic. Dr. W. L. Cheshire, city health officer, today informed the University authorities that he will not allow the game to be played and will forbid all other games until the epidemic subsides. This game has always been known as the most important for both institutions.

Boys in France Can "Use" a Few Baseball Umpires; Wonder What They Mean?

PARIS, Oc. 16—(By Mail).—If professional baseball has folded up for the duration of the war, throw the umpires to the lions—send them to the American expedtionary force. Manay are beyond draft age and, if you believe the players, none could pass the sight test.

Send them over to where baseball is being spread through new territory by our fighters with paraphernalia furnished by and under auspices of the Y. M. C. A., K. of C. of the seven service organizations in the United War Work Campaign. These service organizations furnish tons of sporting apparatus and hundreds of physical directors, but there is a big demand in the American expeditionary force for umpires—probably to send them to the front line.

In the army was discovered a mine of playing talent, but it is a very difficult matter to uncover a man who can call balls and strikes and get some of them right.

All of the umpiring in the games played in France is done by volunteers, which is another proof that the courage of the American soldier knows no bounds. The boche will do well to ponder this fact. Anybody who will offer to hold the indicator in a contest played between two rival company or regimental teams isn't going to mind a little thing like going over the top.

In fact, there is no record of a case wherein a Yank ventured alone into the German lines and whipped half a company. When they threatened him with court martial for promoting a private massacre without orders, he said that he had been the official umpire of his company and had gone over into the Hun precincts to get a rest.

Officers do a good deal of the umpiring. Having the weight of perfect discipline behind them, they get by without hearing many kicks. But discipline or no discipline, there is nothing to prevent a soldier from thinking and sometimes the privates have apoplexy from pent-up feelings. A bad decision is a bad decision whether your colonel or your bunkie calls it on you.

UMPIRE'S HARD JOB.

Contrary to the general belief, it is rather a hard matter to umpire a ball game even moderately well. It cannot be done perfectly, of course, because either one team or the other, or the rooters supporting them will insist that the arbiter has robbed them. It is distinctly harder than it looks to get even a part of the decisions right. Of course, the crowd in the stands doesn't think so. At every big league game, there are several thousand better umpires in the stands than the two on the field.

The fans admit that they know more about the game than the men who are paid large salaries for running it. But the trouble is that the crowd specializes in theory while the boys in the blue suits must be there with the practice.

Now and then a confirmed umpire-baiter has a chance to demonstrate his talent for handling a game. This priceless privilege was accorded to a Detroit fan one day when the Tigers were putting on an exhibition contest. He was very friendly with the players and expected that they would treat him with respect, not to say consideration. The awakening was rude. He operated from behind the pitcher, a point excellently situated for hearing the comments of the whole infield.

Messrs. Bush and Young, shortstop and second baseman, respectively, are particularly gifted young men in the way of spicy repartee, and they decided to show the volunteer umpire a good time.

"Ball one," announced the umpire as the Detroit pitcher delivered his first offering, a particularly wide and high pitch that the catcher intercepted only by an amazing show of agility. Then the infield opened up.

"What was the matter with it?" demanded Young, rushing toward the center of the diamond. Young being his friend, the umpire couldn't understand this savage outburst.

"Why, you know as well as I do, Pep, that it was high and outside," stammered the volunteer.

"High and outside, your grandmother," yelled Pep, his eyes flashing fire and his jaws dripping foam. "It cut the heart of the plate waist high."

"Never mind him, Pep," chimed in Donie Bush. "Can't you see he is wearing spectacles? If he wasn't half blind he wouldn't need them cheaters."

"Ball two," announced the umpire as another near-wild pitch was delivered.

"Call 'em when they're over, you stiff," piped up Vitt. "This is only an exhibition game and Ban Johnson won't pay you anything for robbing us."

"Warm up a woolly dog for this guy. I'm going to get him a job selling lead pencils," howled Bush.

"Maybe he's like an owl and can only see at night," roared Young.

"Strike one," said the umpire in a feeble voice as the next pitch almost knocked the batter's head off.

GUESSES ONE RIGHT.

"Well, you finally guessed one right," said the pitcher. "I lose a bet on you, at that, because I said you would be wrong every time and you're only wrong most of the time."

This time the outraged batter added to the confusion.

"What do you mean, strike?" he bellowed, advancing in a menacing way. "If I hadn't ducked, it would have beaned me. Are you letting them stiffs kid you or has somebody promised to buy you a beer if the Tigers win?"

"Get back there and hit 'em when they're over," commanded Bush. "This bird missed two perfect strikes on our pitcher and you're roaring because he called a good one on you. The guy is doing the best he can, ain't he? He left his cane in the grandstand and can't feel his way round very well. Give 'em a chance."

So it continued through several innings, until the amateur umpire on the verge of tears, quit the game. Thereafter it was noticed that his clarion voice was not to be heard when the populace began to clamor for some regular umpire's gore. He was cured.

It would be impossible to send enough professional umpires to France to handle more than an infinitisimal fraction of the ball games that are played by members of the A. E. F. The only practicable plan would be for a few of them to go over and establish schools for teaching the tricks of the trade to soldiers who might be detailed for this kind of work. Lectures on the rules, practical demonstrations of intricate plays, and instruction on how to anticipate the movements of the ball and keep up with it are some of the things that the umpire tutor might do.

"But," cnimes in a soldier," the plan never will work because the Amalgamated Order of Porch Climbers and Second-story workers won't let the umpires get away from the old U. S."

Dempsey vs. Levinsky

Jack Dempsey and Battling Levinsky will tangle over the six round route in Philadelphia tonight and the fans of the city of brotherly love are looking forward to a good scrap. Dempsey's stock took a decided tumble when Willie Meehan gained a decision over him and it will be up to Jack to redeem himself tonight.

Jim Coffroth has been asked to referee, but as Jim has always side-stepped this job in the past it is not likely he will break the men tonight.

LIKE FIERY FLAMES ARE SKIN DISEASES

Itching and Burning Ofttimes Almost Unbearable in its Intensity

On the lips of those afflicted with skin disease is the eternal question, "How can I find relief from itching and burning and fiery irritation that keeps me in such constant torture?"

This pitiful appeal will continue to come from those who have been misled into the entirely erroneous method of using treatment that is at best only palliative and can have no curative effect because it does not reach the source of the trouble.

In severe cases where a person is suffering intense pain that is unbearable, physicians find it necessary to administer an opiate to give temporary relief. They do not, however, expect to cure the pain in this way, but seek at once to locate its cause and direct their treatment at its source.

A fire may start in the basement of a house, and the flames break out through the roof. Water thrown on the roof will not extinguish the fire, but the intelligent fireman will locate the source of the fire and soon put it out.

Just so with disease. The intelligent physician will tell you that the place to stop any disease is where it starts. Find the location of its origin, or its starting point, then you can apply treatment that will get results.

So-called skin diseases are improperly treated in nine cases out of ten, which is one reason why so many people think them incurable. The real source of the trouble is overlooked.

Whenever you see a person with a clear, ruddy complexion, with a healthy skin entirely free from pimples or blotches, you may be sure that their blood is free of all impurities.

Diseases of the skin, therefore, come from a germ which is in the blood. You must remember that the skin is fed by the blood, and these disease germs find some weak point on the surface of your skin where they multiply and set up their local habitation. This takes on the form of irritation, pimples, scaly roughness, redness, sometimes sores, each of which has some medical term under the classification of skin diseases.

The itching and burning and irritation produce so much discomfort and suffering that you are willing to resort to anything for relief. But the salves and ointments and washes and lotions that you use are only temporary in their relief, and you never yet knew of a case being cured by them.

Why? Just as explained! The source of the trouble must be reached. The eczema, scrofula, tetter, pimples, blotchy, irritated skin and other similar disorders that you are afflicted with come from a germ in your blood. This germ must be eliminated, driven out of your blood. And you cannot reach the blood with remedies applied to the surface.

You cannot reach an enemy a mile away with a gun that can carry a bullet only half a mile.

But there is a treatment for all manner of skin diseases that has been used for more than fifty years with the greatest measure of success. It is S. S. S., the old, honest blood medicine, that goes direct to the source of these troubles—the blood—promptly purifies it and eliminates every trace of trouble-giving germs.

S. S. S. has been sold by the druggists of this country for over fifty years.

Our Medical Department will help you without charge. Write a full description of your own individual case and our chief Medical Adviser, an expert on skin diseases, will give you full and complete directions for treatment. And in the meantime, obtain a bottle of S. S. S. from the drug store today. Get on the right method of treatment for your skin disease at once and you will see results.

Bank of Italy Takes Over Security Bank

Pursuant to permits duly issued by Honorable W. R. Williams, State Superintendent of Banks, the assets and business of the Security Bank, head office and branches were turned over to the Bank of Italy at close of business on Monday of this week, and the doors of the Security Bank offices at 11th and Broadway, Fruitvale, Melrose and College Ave. opened this morning as branches of the Bank of Italy.

This means that the Bank of Italy, a California banking corporation with a paid up capital and surplus of $7,000,000—and resources of approximately $90,000,000—is now in full operation in Oakland.

There will be practically no change in the management of the local banks. H. C. Capwell, former president of the Security Bank, will continue as chairman of the Advisory Board.

L. M. MacDonald will act as supervisor of Alameda county branches; S. E. Biddle, manager; Chas. A. Smith, assistant manager; A. J. Ferroggiaro, assistant manager.—Advertisement.

Dock and Deck

The schoner Gallice, the last of the Bering Sea codfishers, arrived here last night under command of Captain McGinis and a crew of fishermen which shipped on the vessel last April at Oakland. The Galilee left Alaska some time ago, but called into Puget Sound. She brought home 300 tons of salt codfish, and after unloading will remain in port until next spring. In former days the Galilee was rigged as a brig and ran between this port and Tahiti, with freight and passengers.

With 417 tons of copra, the schooner W. G. Irwin reached here from Apia with Captain Carter in command. The Irwin was a brig in her early career, and her route was between the Hawaiian Islands and this port. She was sold to the Roche Harbor Lime Company and was carrying lime between Roche Harbor and Oakland for over ten years. This is her first voyage in the copra trade.

Another northern-built steamer met with a mishap on her maiden voyage, according to the reports received here today from Coos Bay, which state that the new steamer Nufolela, while en route to this port, was compelled to put into Coos Bay with engine trouble.

The barge Wallacut, which broke away from the tug Pioneer and went ashore near Coos Bay, is a total loss. She has broken up completely and her cargo of lumber is drifting near the entrance of the harbor, while much of the lumber is drifting on the beach.

The steamer Victoria, the last of the Nome fleet, arrived at Seattle yesterday with 606 passengers, much gold dust, Alaska tin ore, and 75 tons of reindeer meat, under command of Captain John O'Brien. Much sickness was experienced and four of the passengers died at sea. Among the passengers on board were twelve members of the crew of the power schooner Polar Bear, the flagship of Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the Canadian explorer. Captain John Hadley of Canterbury, England, was in charge and will join Stefansson shortly at Ottawa.

Captain C. J. Kelley died at the St. Joseph Hospital, Victoria, yesterday. Kelley was owner of sealing schooners out of this port in the early days and was well known among all coasting mariners.

The whaling season is now over for the year, and the total catch was a record breaker in the northern waters, 999 whales being captured in all from different stations, 246 whales at Kyoquot, 140 at Rose Harbor, 114 at Maden Harbor, 183 at Bay City and 310 at Akutan station. During the winter months these whales generally travel south, and many are captured off the southern California coast.

NERVES UNSTRUNG BY RUSH OF WORK

In these war times we all want to keep ourselves at the highest point of efficiency to be able to do our share in the many demands for service that are made on all. Unless you stop the mental fatigue and build up your nerves you will be fortunate if you escape nervous breakdown, some form of paralysis or other severe nervous disorder.

"The strain of a rush of work at the ill, due to war orders, was getting on my nerves," says Mr. Thomas Wagner of 67 Marshall street, Lowell, Mass., "and I had stomach trouble. My appetite was poor and I could not digest food. I was uneasy all the time. I was restless and rolled and tossed about in bed. When I got up I did not feel like working. A friend recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I gave them a trial. I soon noticed that they were helping me. I can eat better and have more ambition. My nerves are steadier and I rest well at night. I certainly can recommend these pills after what they have done for me."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a nerve tonic. They build up the nerves in the only possible way, by enriching the blood with elements the nerves need. The treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved useful in so many severe cases that every sufferer is justified in giving them a trial for any form of nervous debility. They contain no opiate or harmful drug.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Price fifty cents per box; six boxes for $2.50. Write to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for free book on nervous disorders.

OAKLAND LAD YIELDS LIFE FOR LIBERTY

Francis Lee Judd, son of Mrs. L. M. Judd, 4899 Telegraph avenue, was killed in action on September 26, according to a telegram from the War Department which was received in this city last night. Judd, who was 24 years old, was drafted in June of last year and sent to Camp Lewis for training. He was with the 363d Infantry. Beside his mother, he is survived by three brothers, John J., Henry, and Frank W. Judd, and three sisters, Mrs. Frank W Herberth, Mrs Fred Beck and Mrs. C. R. Smith.

Clarence H. Hemmell, son of Mrs. H. Hemmell, formerly resident of 537 Seventh street, died in the battle line September 26, according to word received in Oakland by a friend, Charles E. Elsen. Hammell worked for the Mazda Lamp Company as foreman, and although he had grounds for claiming exemption did not do so. He was in France only a month when he was killed.

Since Mrs. E. Davis, 2009 Minnesota avenue, received the official telegram announcing that her son, Oliver Davis, was severely wounded in action about October 15, she has had no further word. Davis was drafted in September of last year and sent to Camp Lewis. He was in training nine months before his company received orders to go overseas in June. Davis is 26 years old and with the 109th Infantry.

Patrick Keenan was killed in action on September 28, according to the announcement which reached his sister, Mrs. Thomas Kelly, of Stege yesterday.

The names of the following Californians are mentioned in today's casualty list issued by the War Department:

OAKLAND MEN GET CALLS TO ARMY CAMPS

Hurried examinations are being held, a maze of "competent orders," assigning many Oakland men to officers' schools are being disposed of, and work is being rushed to fill the new calls for selective service men, who from now on will be sent out almost daily in small units.

Camp Lewis, Kelley Field, and other camps will receive the men as fast as examinations of new Class 1 registrants are finished. The local draft boards have again been able to secure the services of physicians to examine registrants, through the slackening of the influenza epidemic emergency, and it is said today that every call will be filled on time.

Henry Zelmer one of the executives of Kahn Brothers, today received orders sending him to the artillery officers' school at Fort Scott, as did J. A. Van Ryan, local theatrical man. A number of aviation corps orders are to be received this week.

The first large quotas will leave on the 12th of this month, some fifty men to be ordered away, and another large unit for Kelly Field is scheduled to leave on the 14th of the month.

City Hospital Flu Cases Drop Figure Lowest For Three Weeks

With the number of influenza patients in the Municipal Auditorium hospital falling to 125 today, the lowest number which has been registered since the opening of the institution three weeks ago, and with favorable conditions continuing, Chairman Joseph E. Caine of the Red Cross influenza committee this morning optimistically prophesied that at the end of another week the necessity for continuing the hospital would cease to exist. Caine paid tribute to the men and women whose services had reduced the epidemic victims from a maximum of more than 600 patients in the wards at one time to the small figures which the day's report gave.

Joseph R. Knowland, acting chairman of Oakland chapter, American Red Cross; Joseph E. Caine, chairman of the Red Cross influenza committee, and Dr. Herbert Samuels, chairman of the Red Cross nurses' bureau, last night made a tour of the towns in the east end of the county. In Hayward, Niles and Centerville, conditions were found to be rapidly improving with favorable reports coming from Livermore and Pleasanton.

NUMBER OF PATIENTS LESS.

Mrs. John A. Bunting, with a trained nurse and three helpers, is in charge of the emergency hospital at Centerville, which was established in the parish house of the Catholic church at the request of Fathers Casey and Souza. It is modeled closely on the plans of the municipal hospital in this city. The women of the town have taken over the kitchen and the preparation of food. The number of patients has been reduced to eight.

The crisis in Pleasanton, which a few days ago was serious, is well past and the situation is under control.

Through the Oakland woman's committee, Councils of National and State Defense, 110 families have been supplied with food, cooked and uncooked, within the last week. The woman's army has taken over the task for the parent body. It was found that in small homes where the livelihood depended on the weekly pay envelope, a great need existed. The family, neighbors or the nurse has reported to the headquarters and immediately upon investigation all necessities have been forthcoming. Kitchens have been opened in the First Congregational church, in the Lincoln school and in the Prescott school to supply meals to the workers in the Prescott Nursery. Dr. Edna Baily is in charge of the cooking at this depot. About one-half of the cooked food has been prepared in private homes with desserts and substantial dishes donated by the housewives of the city.

THOSE WHO HELPED.

Co-operating with Dr. S. H. Buteau, the following physicians have given their services in the public fight against the influenza inroads: Dr. J. D. Ball, Dr. A. A. Alexander, Dr. A. A. Galbraith, Mrs. L. F. Herrick, Dr. Minora Kibbe, Dr. William Strietman, Dr. Robert Sutherland, Dr. John Adams, Dr. E. M. Bixby, Dr. Ella P. Brown, Dr. Austin Clarke, Dr. A. K. Crawford, Dr. Daniel Crosby, Dr. C. A. Dukes, Dr. L. H. Dyke, Dr. Richard Fricke, Dr. A. P. Hall, Dr. H. J. Helferich, Dr. E. B. Hellberger, Dr. D. L. Gibbs, Dr. T. B. Holmes, Dr. O. D. Hamlin, Dr. M. L. Johnson, Dr. E. F. Jones, Dr. Robert Jump, Dr. E. A. Majors, Dr. O. J. Miller, Dr. F. J. O'Donnell, Dr. Teo Olmstead, Dr. John Purves, Dr. Bouls L. Sherman, Dr. L. Stelle, Dr. H. G. Thomas, Dr. Wilcox. Additional volunteers for service last night were Dr. Dudley Smith, Dr. E. N. Ewer, Dr. E. R. Sill, Dr. R. T. Stratton, Dr. H. G. McLean.

The Sisters in St. Anthony's parish have given a part of each day over to the making of pneumonia jackets, which have been sent to the Oakland chapter of the Red Cross, and to San Francisco.

Lawyer Refuses to Wear Mask; Jailed

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 6.—Attorney R. Platnaeur was handcuffed, arrested and taken to jail when he refused to wear a mask in compliance with the city ordinance.

The arrest occurred in the court-room of Superior Judge Peter J. Shields after the attorney had refused to listen either to the judge or the court attaches. He was released on bail, when he donned his mask at the police station.

FIFTEEN ARE DEAD.

REDDING, Nov. 6.—Fifteen Indians have died near Anderson since the opening of the influenza epidemic. One mother lost five children. The Indian patients do not take medicine faithfully and they do not remain abed as long as they are told to do.

Rice Is Damaged By Butte Snowstorm

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 6.—From all higher elevations come reports of the first fall of snow for the present season. Between five and fifteen inches fell at the various elevations in Plumas county, while Butte and Siskiyou were also carpeted.

The storm did considerable damage to the rice crops in Butte county.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—In a raid on the Socialist headquarters in the Jack London Memorial Institute, 1255 Market street, yesterday afternoon, officers of the neutrality squad arrested three women and six men. They were charged with vagrancy, and each was held in $25 bail. Violation of the board of health regulations against holding public meetings during the Spanish influenza epidemic caused the arrests. This is the second raid on the society within two weeks.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys If Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Advertisement.

A Sure Way to End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Advertisement.
